CLAIMS PEOPLE OF TEXAS ARE MISLED

SENATOR NELSON OF LUBBOCK DISCUSSED OLD AGE PENSIONS

FIRST DAY OF GENERAL DEBATE ON PENSIONS BRINGS HOT STATEMENTS

AUSTIN, Mar. 20.—(AP)—Bristling charges the people of Texas had been misled as to what they will receive in the way of old age pensions were made in the senate today by Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock.

Nelson was opposing a bill by Senator Doss Hardin of Waco liberalizing the present old age pension plan but not dealing with taxation.

It was the first day the senate had tackled on the floor the dynamite-laden pension-tax problem. The house had adjourned in respect to Rep. J. J. Olsen of Yoakum, who died Saturday.

Nelson asserted the statement had been made all over Texas that the people had voted four to one for a constitutional amendment whereby they would receive pensions of $30, but nothing was further from the truth.

Reading the question submitted to the people two years ago, the senator pointed out the amendment merely authorized the legislature to set up a system of old age assistance and to accept federal aid and restricted state expenditures for this purpose to a maximum of $15 a month.

"The old people of Texas have been seriously misled," Nelson shouted. "I am not saying by whom, but there have been some who have gone about over the state saying if they were elected to public office 'you will get your $30 a month'."

"In my opinion the federal government will not match $15 state money to all over 65. Certainly it has not done so in other states.

Why Continue to Mislead

"If the federal government will not, then why continue to mislead the people by making them think they will get something they will not receive?

"They won't get $30 a month and it is wrong to make them think they will.

"The honest thing would have been to tell them the federal authorities will not match $15 to all, that all over 65 will not get $30 and that the basis of need is bound to continue."

WILLIAM O. DOUGLAS NAMED FOR JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT

FOURTH APPOINTMENT TO HIGH COURT MADE BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—(AP)—William O. Douglas, 40-year-old chairman of the securities commission, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be an associate justice of the supreme court

If the nomination is confirmed by the senate, Douglas will succeed the veteran Justice Louis D. Brandeis, who retired February 13 after 23 years on the high tribunal.

Although there had been a widespread demand for appointment of a westerner to fill the court vacancy, Douglas, a former Yale law professor, was appointed from Connecticut.

However, Douglas was born in Minnesota and received his early schooling in Washington State.

Douglas is known as a consistent new deal supporter.

Recently, he denounced as a "phoney" a proposal from the stock exchanges to change trading rules.

This was President Roosevelt's fourth appointment in less than two years to the nine-man court. There was no vacancy during his first term.

Others at Retirement Age.

Another vacancy would permit him to name a majority of the bench. Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes will be 77 on April 11, Justice James C. McReynolds already is 77, and Justice Pierce Butler is 72.

There has been speculation over possibility of McReynolds leaving the bench, but some of his friends believe he may remain until after the 1940 presidential election in hope an anti-new dealer would be elected to appoint his successor when he retired.

Douglas has been chairman of the securities commission, which regulates the security markets, since 1936.

Since the administration began its current effort to reassure and stimulate business, the commission relaxed its rules concerning "short" sales of securities. Douglas balked indignantly a few days, ago, however, at a proposal from the National Exchanges to make further changes in trading rules. He charged that the proposed changes would not help legitimate business but would benefit "manipulators" instead.

Douglas has been on leave from Yale, where he had taught law since 1927.

May Proceed With Arguments.

As soon as a new justice takes his seat, the court can proceed with arguments on three cases held up because of an eight-judge court during most of the present term The litigation involves:

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT MAKES STAND FOR RETENTION OF OIL PROPERTIES FOREIGN CONCERNS

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—(AP)—The Mexican government apparently seeks a settlement of the oil expropriation controversy whereby it would retain full control of the petroleum industry and demand additional cash investments from the expropriated concerns in exchange for a share of the earnings.

This was the analysis drawn by observers from a speech yesterday by President Lazaro Cardenas before 35,000 persons celebrating the first anniversary of the confiscation of properties valued at $400,000,000 by the 17 American and British companies concerned.

Donald Richberg, counsel for the companies, remained silent on Cardenas' speech. He had said Friday neither party had "committed himself to agreement" and none could "be assumed" until "expressly stated by both."

Cardenas told his audience the issue was "reaching a definite solution through the plan of cooperation" offered by the companies.

The president said Mexico would have to maintain control of the industry."

Informed sources said Richberg actually sought a long-term management contract under which Mexico would get some financial aid in credits, cash, or royalties and taxes which she is not receiving now, or a combination of these.

It was said to have been proposed that at expiration of the contract the whole business be turned back to Mexico. Cardenas referred to an "association" in which Mexico would have "direct-

RUMANIA APPEARS READY CAPITULATE TO NAZI DEMANDS

ECONOMIC CONCESSIONS BE GRANTED BUT NO POLITICAL RIGHTS SURRENDERED

BUCHAREST, March 20.—(AP)—Rumania appeared ready today to make economic concessions to Germany but stood firm against surrender of any political rights.

Negotiations between Dr. Helmuth Wohlthat, German trade expert, and the Rumania finance ministry were taking place here. The discussions were said to be approaching a conclusion in an atmosphere of "understanding on both sides."

But it was also asserted no political problems nor German-Rumania relations were being discussed. Rumanians admitted their trade with Germany would be increased to a marked degree, but said the complete German demands were not being met.

It was revealed that the German absorption last week of Bohemia-Moravia considerably affected the Rumania military position. This is because many of Rumania's guns and other military equipment were built by the Skoda

City Candidates Must File Last Monday In March

Eleven of the fifteen announced candidates for various city offices to be filled at the annual city election on April 4 had officially filed their applications for places on the ballot early Monday morning according to City Secretary J. P. Welch.

Under the ordinance governing municipal elections, all candidates must file for places on the ticket not later than the last Monday in March according to Mr. Welch. The ballots will be sent to the printer on the last Tuesday in March and absentee balloting can be started on the next day and continue until the Monday preceding the election.

More than usual interest is being shown in the election this year and several of the office-seekers are making active personal campaigns. The total number of polls issued this year was 1563, considerably above the average for recent years, and seasoned observers indicated there were approximately two thousand qualified voters after exemptions were included and a total vote of that number was possible.

Those who have filed for places on the ballot include:

For Mayor: August Wendorf, John S. Murchison, T. C. Orr.

For Commissioner: W. E. McKinney and Wilbur Wright.

For City Attorney: Jack H. Thompson and David Ralston.

For Tax-Assessor - Collector: George Campbell, J. M. Pugh, J. Paul Robinson, and John R. Curington.

Those who have not yet filed include Mose Blumrosen for mayor, N. F. Garrett and Travis Fullwood for commissioner, and Jess Megarity for tax assessor and collector.

The resolution ordering the annual city election is scheduled to be adopted by the city commission at its second March meeting on Tuesday,

MOSCOW CONTINUES CALM IN FACE NAZI ADVANCE EASTWARD

SOVIET GOVERNMENT HAS REFUSED RECOGNIZE HITLER IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

MOSCOW, March 20.—(AP)—Although the Nazi steamroller advancd last week to within several hundred miles of the Soviet Russian border, Moscow has remained as usual one of the calmest capitals in the world.

Soviet citizens learned last night their government had refused to recognize Adolf Hitler's absorption of Czecho-Slovakia and had condemned it as "arbitrary, violent and aggressive." There was no hint of panic at the near approach of German troops.

It is against this background of calm confidence in Moscow that the chances of Soviet co-operation with the Western democracies must be considered.

Vice Defense Commissar L. Z. Mekhli's prediction was recalled as especially significant today. In a recent speech he said any attempt to invade Soviet Russia would result only "multiplying the number of Soviet republics," and added:

"Comrades! The time is not far off when our armies—international because of the ideology which dominates them—answering insolent enemy attacks, will help the workers of the aggressor countries to throw off the Fascist yoke, free them from the capitalists and liquidate capitalist surroundings."

Despite the outward calm there was much diplomatic activity. A footnote to the situation was given by the big masquerade ball of Italian Augusto Rosso. There were colorful costumes, champagne, gaiety—and furtive conver-

DRIVERS' LICENSES REMAIN GOOD UNTIL SOME CHANGE MADE

AUSTIN, March 20.—(Spl.)—Polihe administrators of other states were notified today of an indefinite extension period for Texas driver's licenses after April 1, Ralph L. Buell, chief of the licensing bureau, announced.

The bureau head said a measure is pending before the legislature to provide for the reissuance of drivers permits which expire April 1, after three years of validity. The new licenses will be issued by the public safety department instead of by tax collectors who distributed the when the law went into effect in 1936.

Chief Buell said temporary licenses will be asigned to drivers who pass examinations for their first permits and will remain valid until the amended statute becomes effective. Chauffeurs' licenses, however, will not be affected by the extension period as they are issued annually.

Newspapers will be advised of plans to renew licenses of drivers at a future date, he said.

ARMIES MARCHING IN EUROPE AGAIN TODAY AS NATIONS SEETHE

GERMANY APPEARS READY FOR NEW CONQUESTS; OPPOSITION MAY ORGANIZE

By The Associated Press

Armies marched again in Europe today as Germany appeared on the threshold of new conquests and Britain tried to rally "anti-aggressor" nations into a "stop Hitler bloc."

Reunion of war-lost Memel with Germany seemed imminent. Reports came of German troop movements toward the little Baltic state.

Britain sounded out Soviet Russian on possibility of her cooperation with Britain, France, Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey to stop Adolf Hitler.

United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy conferred with Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, and an informed source said they discussed close diplomatic collaboration.

FUNERAL SERVICES VICTIM OF TRUCK ACCIDENT SUNDAY

WILLIAM E. CALHOUN BURNED TO DEATH WHEN GASOLINE TANK EXPLODES

Funeral services for William E. Calhoun, aged 51 years, of Corsicana, who was fatally burned near Athens Saturday afternoon, were held from the chapel of the Southerland McCammon Funeral Home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mr. Calhoun was a driver of a gasoline truck for the Butler-Calhoun company of Corsicana.

According to information received here, the large truck overturned and burst into flames three miles west of Athens after he had pulled around a car that drove on to the pavement from a side road to avoid a collision. The flamming truck skidded for some distance. Calhoun was trapped in the driver's seat.

Cecil Willis, driver for the same concern, was reported driving just ahead of Calhoun and saw the crash and explosion through his rear window. The car which Calhoun drove around to avoid was reported driven by Mrs. Bob Tanner, a farm resident near Athens.

Willis is reported to have said that the wheels of Calhoun's truck skidded in the soft shoulder of the road as the driver

AVIATION EXPERTS SEEK EXPLANATION BIG PLANE CRASH

TEN OCCUPANTS, INCLUDING AVIATION EXPERTS, KILLED ON SATURDAY

ALDER, Wash., March 20.—(AP)—Aviation experts came to this mountain village today to seek an explanation for the crash of the new four-motored Boeing Startoliner which carried its ten occupants to death in a spectacular 10,000-foot plunge Saturday.

Victims of the crash included A. G. Von Baumhauer, aeronautics engineer for the Netherlands government; Peter Guilonard, assistant manager of the Royal Dutch Air Lines, and several prominent American airmen.

Von Baumhauer was a member of the Dutch air mission to the United States.

Federal and Boeing officials studied the twisted wreckage of the $500,000 ship to determine whether a structural fault was responsible.

The accident stripped the Boeing company of some of its key men including test pilots Earl Ferguson, 31, Julius Barr, and William Doyle, all of Seattle.

Other victims were Harlan Hull, 32, Kansas City, Mo., chief test pilot for the Transcontinental and Western Airlines; John Kylstra, Seattle, Boeing chief engineer; Ralph L. Cram, 33, Seattle, Boeing aerodynamics expert; Benjamin J. Pearson, 32, Seattle, assistant Boeing salesmanager; and

FRANCE REPORTED READY TO MOBILIZE ALONG FRONTIER

DEMONSTRATION ON RHINELAND TO WARN GERMANY HANDS OFF RUMANIA

PARIS, March 20.—(AP)—The French government was reported today to have decided upon regional mobilization along the Rhineland frontier as a warning to Germany to keep hands off Rumania, a French ally.

Political sourcces indicated the first use Premier Daladier would make of the unprecedented dictatorial powers voted him by parliament yesterday would be an armed demonstration to Rumania that she would not have to face German threats alone.

Unusual secrecy surrounded a hastily-called cabinet meeting yesterday, but political observers agreed that the first plenary decrees, submitted for President Albert Lebrun's signature today, would start recall of troops and would be designed to bring the French army's standing strength up to nearly 1,000,000 men.

French military measures, these sources, were tied in with a sud-

MEMEL EXPECTED BE NEXT TERRITORY OF NAZI ANNEXATION

HITLER BACK IN BERLIN AS HINT NAVAL TREATY TO BE CANCELLED

BERLIN, Mar. 20.—(AP)—Germany and Lithuania were reported today to have come to an understanding on Germany's possible annexation of Memel.

The outcome of conversations between Jouzas Urbsys, Lithuanian foreign minister, and Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, was described as:

1. Germany will receive Memel with open arms if and when Memellanders make known their desire to get "home into the reich."

2. Lithuanian will consider herself rid of unnecessary balast.

The ostensible cause for Memel's reunion with Germany, however, will be Memel itself — not Germany or Lithuania.

The Memel Landtag, meeting March 25, is expected to raise the cry of self-determination with a demand to "get home to the reich."

Then Hitlers' marching columns would enter Memel as liberators.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, March 20.—(AP)—Juozas Urbsys, foreign affairs minister of Lithuania, and German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop conferred today on what government spokesmen said was primarily the fate of Memel.

It was announced at the same time that Count Johannes Von Welczek, German ampassador to Paris, had been ordered "to return to Berlin to report."

French Ambassador Robert Coulondre, called back Saturday by his government, already had left the German capital.

Circumstantial evidence indicated reunion of Memel with Greater Germany is only a question of days.

(Memel, a Baltic district 1,099 square miles in area, was detached from Germany by the Versailles treaty and later placed under Lithuanian sovereignty with a measure of autonomy.)

With Chancellor Hitler back in his world-watched chancellery and the press hinting at a possible cancellation of the 1935 British-German naval treaty in reply to Britain's stiff protest over the Nazi absorption of Czecho-Slovakia last week, this train of facts showed how the wind was blowing:

Subjects of Discussion.

1. German newspaper editors told their foreign colleagues privately absorption of Memel was practically assured.

2. Various travelers reaching Berlin from the northeast of Europe reported troop movements.

3. A meeting of the Memel landtag or diet is scheduled for March 25, and the date is regarded in political circles as pivotal in Memel's future history.

GREAT BRITAIN IS SEEKING LINE UP NAZI OPPOSITION

BRITAIN, FRANCE, RUSSIA AND OTHER NATIONS BE INCLUDED

LONDON, Mar. 20.—(AP)—Authoritative diplomatic quarters said today Britain had proposed an anti-aggression declaration by herself, France, Soviet Russia and any other nation willing to join a common "stop Hitler" front.

These quarters said the anti-aggression declaration was offered as a counter-proposal to a Russian suggestion for a joint conference of democratic nations to consider means of resisting possible German aggression.

It was not clear whether the Russian proposal envisaged participation of the United States in such a conference.

The view in London, however, was that American participation would be welcomed if it could be obtained.

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar of Foreign Affairs, these quarters said, communicated the conference suggestion to the British embassy in Moscow.

Litvinoff made similar proposals after both the German absorption of Austria, March 13, 1938, and after German annexation of Czecho-Slovakia's Sudetenland last September. Britain, however, rejected them.

Now, reliable reports said, Britain is considering Moscow's plan favorably although still retaining a preference for an anti-aggression declaration to service notice on Germany.

Smaller European powers, these quarters said, would be asked to subscribe. Among them they mentioned Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Bulgaria.

According to these reports the declaration would not commit any nation automatically to go to war but, by implication, would involve mutual defense against an aggressor nation.

Its primary purpose would be to assure consultation among the subscribers should Germany attempt to repeat against another state her coup in Czechoslovakia.

Britain to Revise Program of Defense

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today Britain's colosal defense program again would be revised as one of three British steps in answer to Germany's eastward drive in Europe.

The others were:

1. An attempt to rally "anti-aggressor" nations into a "stop Hitler" bloc.

2. A decision to send a trade mission to Rumania to counter German economic pressure in trade negotiations with Bucharest which have caused widespread concern.

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER SAYS HE HAS NOT CHANGED HIS IDEAS OF GOVERNMENT SINCE YEAR 1932

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Vice President Garner, it was learned today, is answering inquiries about his stand on governmental policies by citing a statement of views he made in 1932. He says he now holds the same opinions.

The 1932 statement was contained in a letter accepting the Democratic vice presidential nomination. Garner wrote Senator Barkley (D-Ky) his philosophy on government.

"There are just two things to this government as I see it," the letter said. "The first is to safeguard the lives and properties of our people; the second is to insure that each of us has a chance to work out his destiny according to his talents.

This involves protecting him from being injured or oppressed by those of superior acquisitiveness, and perhaps less conscience, who seek to starin the rules to their own advantage.

"In my opinion, nearly all of our civic troubles are the consequence of government's departure from its legitimate functions. Our increased population and new conditions arising from new inventions often make it necessary to change the rules in order to keep the balance between the people and those who would exploit them.

Enhance Evils.

"Unfortunately, these changes and adjustments result too often in enhancing instead of diminishing the evils."

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE MAY TAKE MATTERS IN THEIR OWN HANDS

WASHINGTON, March 0.—(AP)—Sentiment increased in the senate finance committee today for independent congressional action to overhaul business taxes if President Roosevelt fails to recommend their revision.

The President said last week the treasury was making factual studies to ascertain effects of suggested changes in the tax structure. He insisted revenues remain at their present level.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the finance committee said he stood ready to cooperate with Secretaries Morgenthau and Hopkins, both of whom have suggested taxes could be revised in an effort to encourage business.

Senator George (D-Ga), a finance committee member, said he interpreted Mr. Roosevelt's recent statements as indicating the chief executive had no desire to revamp the present system.

CRACK PLAYERS ARE PRACTICING HERE FOR INVITATION TOURNAMENT

Qualifying for the annual club championship tournament of the Corsicana Country Club will start Saturday, April 1, and will end Friday, April 7, W. A. Lang, club secretary and chairman of the golf tournament committee, announced Monday morning.

The officials desire to get the club tournament completed before the time of the annual invitation golf tournament to be sponsored about the middle of May.

Golfers from over the country are playing here frequently and state that the invitation affair is receiving considerable attention in golfing circles.

Dave Stevens of San Antonio and Jack Munger of Dallas, both fine golfers, were here Sunday afternoon and played over the local layout.

Howard Creel, ace southpaw golfer, formerly of Pueblo, Colo., now of Dallas, is expected here soon for practice rounds over the local course.

Reynolds Smith, golf writer and great player, states Creel is generally regarded as the world's greatest left-handed golfer. He has seven holes-in-one to his credit.

Fatally Stricken With Heart Attack Friday Afternoon

A. L. Reed, aged 83, was fatally stricken with a heart attack shortly after 1 o'clock Friday while en route from Huntsville to Paducah, Cottle county, Texas in an automobile. He had been granted a three months furlough from the state penitentiary by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and was en route to his former home for a visit when stricken near the state highway department warehouse on highway 75 in North Corsicana.

The body was brought to the county jail and then taken to Corley Funeral Home, where Justice of Peace A. E. Foster conducted an inquest, and returned a verdict of death from natural causes after Dr. William T. Shell, Jr., had ascribed death to an acute heart attack.

Sheriff C. O Curington said he had been informed the aged man was suffering from a malignant malady and had been in ill health for several weeks. He entered the penitentiary in 1934 on a sentence for murder according to the sheriff.

In the car with the stricken man were Louis Reed, a grandson; Luther Arbuckle, husband of a granddaughter; and Bryan Derryberry, a friend of the first two men. All were from Paducah.

Funeral Services Saturday Afternoon

Funeral services for A. L. Reed, aged 83 years, who died here with a heart attack Friday afternoon while riding in a car, were held from the Corley chapel Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock with burial at Petty's Chapel. The rites were conducted by Rev. P. E. Riley, pastor of the First Methodist church. He was en route from Huntsville to Paducah when stricken.

'AMERICANA' IS BIRTHDAY THEME CAMP FIRE GIRLS

FULL PROGRAM OF EVENTS BEING CARRIED OUT BY LOCAL ORGANIZATION

The twenty-seventh national birthday of Camp Fire Girls is being celebrated this month by a number of city-wide activities for the Corsicana Camp Fire Girls.

"Americana" is the birthday theme and most all the 14 groups have had their early American parties with costumes, dances, games, folk songs, and refreshments in keeping with them.

The birthday observance was begun with services at St. John's Episcopal church the first Sunday in March and will finish with the Grand Council Fire at the YMCA the last Sunday in March with the national president of Camp Fire Girls, Mrs. Elbert Williams, as the speaker.

During the month the girls have enjoyed a skating party, tour of colonial homes, Mother-Daughter tea, cooking demonstration at Texas Power & Light Company, and have yet on their calendar a picture show, book review and spend the day at Camp Wanica.

The Robert E. Lee school Camp Fire Girls had an interesting program for assembly and presented the school with a United States flag.

The high school and junior high Camp Fire Girls will present in chapel a skit of early Corsicana, written by Mrs. A. A. Allison.

Honoring the 27th birthday of Camp Fire Girls the Texas Power & Light Company has created an early American kitchen in their window and Miles Furniture Company will have an early American bedroom in their window this week end.

The Camp Fire Girls also visited the homes of Mrs. C. H. Mills and Mrs. Billy Peck.

One cause for European apprehension was that the lightning might strike next in Rumania, whose rich oil wells and fertile wheat fields are in the path of Nazi "drang nach osten"—march to the east.

Rumania put more than 500,000 men on her frontiers and stood firm against surrender of any political rights to Germany although she appeared ready to make economic concessions.

Hungarian troops were massed.

In France, Premier Daladier was reported to have decided on regional mobilization along the Rhineland frontier as a warning to Germany to keep hands off Rumania, a French ally.

Both London and Paris were said to be looking uneasily toward Italy, fearful that Mussolini might try to divert attention from Hitler by raising Italian colonial demands against France.

With German frontiers pushed within several hundred miles of the Soviet Union, Moscow remained calmly confident. Russia joined Britain and France, at least morally, yesterday by declaring German absorption of Czecho-Slovakia "arbitrary, violent and aggressive."

Spanish Nationalists were reported, meanwhile, to have turned down requests by the Republican government for an "honorable peace" and to have insisted on Madrid's unconditional surrender.

Window Display TP&L Attracting Much Attention

Attractive contrasting window displays prepared by the Texas Power & Light Company in connection with the cooking demonstration for the Corsicana Camp Fire Girls last week have been drawing considerable attention. One of the windows shows a modern electrical kitchen compared in the adjoining window with the "conveniences" afforded in a log cabin of the early days.

The pioneer window has a pine slab background with a large fireplace, and numerous antiques used in the early days, including long-handled metal waffle irons, coffee grinder, spinning wheel, teakettles, and several other items. Included in the exhibit were a violin made in 1630 owned by Bill Cruse; a footstool used by John W. Carpenter during his boyhood, with legs made of pegs from crossarms; a candle mould used by the great-great-grandmother of Wilber Wright, and a teakettle used by the great-great-grandmother of J. A. Young.

More than 100 Camp Fire Girls, guardians and parents attended the cooking demonstration at 5:30 Friday evening with Miss Abigail Bibbs as conductress. A complete meal was prepared and later given away by Miss Gibbs.

Memel Chief Objective.

Responsible circles indicated Memel was one of the chief topics under discussion last night at a conference of Hitler with various trusted lieutenants.

It was also admitted that the precarious state of relations with Great Britain was likewise a major topic and that the recall of Ambassador Johannes Welczek from Paris, as a parallel measure to French Ambassador Robert Coulondre's departure from Berlin, was discussed.

Whether Germany actually would abrogate the 1935 naval agreement with Britain could not be learned. Informed German editors, however, predicted Germany would take up the race in naval armaments as soon as practicable, at the sme time bending every ounce of energy towrd keeping up the strength of the air arm.

Obtains More Airplanes.

Maintaining the air strength would be considered easy, because Germany obtained an excellent collection of airplanes from Czechoslovakia.

For the immediate future, government spokesmen intimated, German propaganda would be turned upon an alleged effort at London to hinder negotiations between Dr. Helmuth Wohlthat, German economic expert, and the Rumanian government for a trade agreement.

Reports that Hitler intends soon to summon the reichstag were dispelled when it was announced Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering intends to resume tomorrow night his "holiday" on the Italian Riviera and at points further south. He was summoned back by the chancellor from the "vacation" just before the entrance of German troops into Moravia-Bohemia.

Hitler took urgent council on the future of his newborn empire.

Hitler was believed in consultation with high ministers at the chancellery after a survey of his territorial prizes.

He returned to Berlin last night acclaimed with the title of medieval German emperors, "augmentor of the reich." Conferences in the swift tempo in which the fuehrer works at times of historic importance followed immediately.

Receives "Heils" Four Times

Four times last night Hitler appeared spot-lighted on the chancellery balcony to receive the "heils" of a throng that welcomed him home from a tour of Germany's new protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia.

Goering, whose shared the balcony spotlight with Hitler last night, struck the keynote of the homecoming welcome tendered to the fuehrer when he gave the nation's pledge "never to relinquish this gigantic, this great and tremendously courageous creation of yours, come what may."

Foreign military observers took stock of the modern airplanes guns and other military equipment of latest design which fell into German possession as result of the bloodless conquest of Bohemia and Moravia.

The armament potentialities of the gigantic Skoda works, centered at Pizen (Pilsen) and other arms factories also claimed the attention in efforts to evaluate how much Germany had bettered her position in the world arms race.

LEGISLATURE

rillo, before a committee, Nelson declared:

"The senator from Amarillo told you one truth. You can spend all the money you can scrape together under the present law on the books without enacting a new one."

He added:

"I think it economically and socially unsound to pay pensions to everyone over 65 years of age: I want to take care of all who need care.

"There I take my stand."

Nelson fired away at the A and B classification of pensioners asserting:

Great Social Problem

"Adopt this policy and you'll create one of the greatest social problems Texas has ever known.

"You are asking me to consider on the same level the old man who has raised children on the principles of honesty and decency and one who has done nothing but cuss the government and raise children who are now in the penitentiary."

Nelson asserted that in some counties negroes, for political reasons would be put in the A classification along with whites.

"If you put my dad or someone else's dad in a class with negroes then is when the shooting will start," he said.

The Lubbock senator asserted Hardin was attempting to put the cart before the horse in that the legislature should first determine how it will raise pension money before it appropriates and divides it.

He also attacked the provision eliminating child support for pension eligibility with an assertion some children are so worthless "they wouldn't give a dime to their gray-haired mother or father to keep them from starving."

The senate had recessed an hour in memory of Olsen after Hardin explained provisions of his bill. Resumption of his explanation brought on the barrage of debate.

AUSTIN, March 20.—(AP)—The senate grappled with the old age pension problem for the first time today while the house battle on the taxation feature of social security financing was stilled temporarily as that branch adjourned in respect to Rep. J. J. Olsen of Yoakum who died Saturday.

The senate recessed an hour in memory of Olsen after Senator Doss Hardin of Waco explained provisions of his bill to eliminate child support and property ownership from pension eligibility.

Attacking the present law, which is admnstered by a statewde commission, Hardin charged "we've got a bunch of investigators going around spending $7.50 a day telling grandma she can have $5 a month."

His measure would place administration in the hands of county commissioners' courts in counties of less than 50,000 population. He asserted that system of administration would save $597,312 annually and the goal of revenue raising measures for pensions could be shaved by that amount.

A and B Classes.

His bill also would place all old age assistance recipients in A and B classes, the amounts to be paid either to be determined by previous standards of living and health. The state commission would determine the payments for either class and county commissioners' courts would determine who fell into either division.

Answering a question from Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville, Hardin said his proposal was "pretty liberal."

He asserted federal matching funds would not be endangered under the proposal because a single state agency, as required by the federal social security act, would be continued. He said that 38 states now administer pensions with the aid of county units.

Hardin claimed it would be impossible for county commissioners to play politics with pensions under his plan because the state commission would continue to determine the amount of payments.

The Hardin bill authorizes a maximum pension in state funds of $15 to persons whose yearly income is less than $360 and who are otherwise qualified.

Dealing With No One Issue.

His voice rising as he sought to impress colleagues with the importance of the legislation, Mardin shouted:

"We are dealing with the number one issue here. The boys back in the forks of the creek are expecting the legislatur to do something. We could kill all other bills and pass this one and the Jones boys would think we had done a good job."

Senator Morris Roberts of Pettus interrupted to ask if Hardin didnt' think the number one issue was getting the money for pensions.

"We'll get the money," he fired back. "There are plenty of house bills that will get it if you will vote for them."

Hardin recalled the pension matter was an issue in "every political race last summer."

He added he had some respect for a robber or theif but not for a candidate who promised the people something and refused to do it for them.

Full Payment Necessary.

"To my mind this question will never be settled until a full payment of pensions is provided for," he said.

He renewed his criticism of old age assistance commission investigators,, asserting his bill "stops investigators from snooping around the homes of the old people."

Hardin objected when Senator R. A. Weinert of Seguin suggested that perhaps the bill should be laid on the table subject to call so that senators could thoroughly digest it.

"We've been here 70 days and the old people want us to do something," Hardin saidl.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson complained that the Hardin measure did not specify what deductions could be made in determining when an applicants' net income was less than $360.

From Senator Jesse Martin of Fort Worth came an observation the Class A and B provision seemed "very broad" and perhaps the measure should include some yardstick for determining previous standards of living.

GARNER

presidential nomination, said in 1932:

"Had it not been for the steady encroachment of federal government on the rights and duties reserved for the states we perhaps would not have the present spectacle of the people rushing to Washington to set right whatever goes wrong. x x x

"The gravitation of power to Washington has builded a structure of administration vast beyond the imagination of the builders of the constitution."

In recent years, Garner often has used his influence in an effort to effect government economies. In 1932 he had this to say:

"The Republican platform, as usual, carries a retrenchment plank couched in vague, elusive terms—a striking contrast to the Democratic platform, which demands a reduction of at least 25 per cent in expenditures.

"Republicans x x x promised economy in 1920 and 1924. And in 1928 they gave assurance of maximum efficiency at minimum cost. Despite their pledges, the costs of government have mounted steadily."

Discussing foreign afafirs, Garner said he opposed cancellation of war debts because "we must be fair and just, not only to foreign nations, but to American taxpayers as well.

"The lack of a definite foreign policy under successive Republican administrations," he said, "has proved embarrassing to this country."

Garner said "the most naked evidence" of failure by the country's 1932 Republican leadership were "the failure to meet the depression emergency at its inception and enactment of the Hawley-Smoot tariff in the face of an almost universal protest."

During the present administration, Garner sometimes has been reported in disagreement with policies advanced by President Roosevelt. But, still standing on his 1932 declaration, the vice president thus describes Mr. Roosevelt as a "leader of ability, resourcefulness and determination" with a "sympathetic grasp of human problems, x x x courage in meeting emergencies and overcoming obstacles."

RUMANIA

Works, now in German hands. The problem of getting replacements for these armaments was made difficult.

A government spokesman acknowledged Rumania must grant a major share of her trade to the Nazis, but said the government still looked to the west, hoping to be saved from an economic dependence on Germany which would give Rumania somewhat the status of a German colony.

The biggest news in government circles today was the report the British cabinet was considering the plight of the Balkans which lie directly in the path of the German "drang nach Osten"—drive to the east.

Details of negotiations by which Germany sought to dominate Rumanian import and export markets almost to the exclusion of the rest of the world were unknown to Rumanians at large.

High officials quarters emphasized, however, that Rumania had not received any German ultimatum. At the same time it was made known that the Rumanians had rejected the latest German trade proposal.

As if to guard her rich oil and wheat lands pending some settlement that would not obliterate her independence, Rumania held at least 500,000 men, called from a dozen army classes, at her frontiers.

Daladier was reported to have called to the colors 125,000 special fortress troops from the last three classes which have completed their military service. It was also said an additional class of 240,000 men might be summoned

The chamber of deputies on Saturday and the senate yesterday approved Daladier's demand for sweeping powers with which to match quick decisions of dictators. The only check on this power, unprecedented in peacetime France, is the approval that must be given by the cabinet, which he rules with an iron hand, and by President LeBrun, who supports his "strong man" tactics.

France Takes Over Powers.

DAMASCUS, Syria, March 20.—(AP)—The French government took over all police and security powers from the Syrian government today and French troops began military occupation of Damascus.

The action was decided upon in view of a growing revolt in various sections of Syria and continued rioting in Damascus, Homs, 100 miles north of Damascus, and other cities.

Rioting began Saturday. Most of the demonstrators in Damascus have been Syrian nationalists angered by France's failure to ratify the 1936 treaty giving Syria independence. Autonomy movements have been behind disturbances elsewhere.

(Syria is an independent state under a French mandate. The 1936 treaty of friendship substituted Syrian autonomy for the mandate. The Syrian parliament ratified the treaty Dec. 26, 1936.)

GOVERNOR SEEKING PASSAGE BILL END LAND VACANCY ROW

PROPOSAL WOULD MAKE RACKET MORE TROUBLESOME TO RACKETEERS

AUSTIN, March 18.—(AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel urged the legislature today to pass a bill designed to curtail land vacancy hunting.

In a press statement the chief executive said he was highly pleased at a 12-4 recommendation given such a bill a few days ago by the house public lands committee.

The proposal would place a $200 filing fee on vacancy hunters, allow them only 1-24 royalty and change the venue of vacancy trials from Travis county to the county in which the land lies. Vacancies are lands which persons have thought they owned but which they discovered were not included in the original grant from the state.

The governor's statement follows:

"A few days ago the house committee on public lands and buildings by overwhelming vote reported favorably a bill of which Paris Smith of Bay City is the author, and sponsored by Representative Harold Hankamer, El Paso, to end the land vacancy racket in Texas, a measure which has the support of Lieutenant Governor Stevenson, Land Commissioner Giles, land owners and most of the educational leaders in Texas.

"For many years this vacancy racket has been a disturbing factor in Texas and has resulted in many losing their faith in government, for land bought by ranchers and farmers, from the state, which land they developed, and on which they paid taxes, pioneers upon whom this state has depended, was seized upon by greedy, self-serving persons in the name of the state.

"This bill proposes to ring down the curtain upon such further depredations and Mr. Hankamer should be congratulated for the masterly way he has negotiated this piece of legislation, which is one of the most important before the session. It is an act that will greatly assist in restoring public confidence in government and clear the good name of the schools, for the land grabber should never have the support of the schools any more than the support of the state government of Texas. The bill throws adequate safeguards around the public school fund and at the same time protects the rights of the land owner."

ARRESTS, SUICIDES INCREASING AMONG JEWS, ANTI-NAZIS

SYSTEMATIC ELIMINATION OF OPPOSITION ELEMENTS IN NEW NAZI AREAS

PRAGUE, Mar. 17.—(AP)—Reports of arrests and suicides among anti-Nazis and Jews increased today as non-Jews began taking over administration of Jewish-owned stores in the former Czech republic.

The secret police were making a systematic clean-up of "undesirable elements." Although no official figures were available, one estimate was that about 600 had been jailed.

The arrest of 47 welfare agency workers brought a collapse to efforts to assist refugees from the country. Among those jailed was Ada Smolkava, who had worked closely since Munich with English and American groups.

Lists of those trying to flee Prague were seized, among them the names of 200 Jews. Wealthy, they had agreed to provide for emigration of 200 less fortunate colleagues, and themselves planned to go to San Domingo.

A relief kitchen run by English women and Quakers for German and Sudeten refugees was closed.

This story was told by one person: Two prominent Prague residents boarded a plane yesterday, having dyed their hair in an effort at disguise. The plane did not take off because of the prohibition against civil transport. The two were recognized as the left the plane and were shot.

The assistant manager of the Rothschild-owned Witkowitz Iron Works in Maerisch Ostrau, which fell to the Germans Tuesday night shot himself yesterday.

The manager of Prague radio station No. 2, which transmits in the German language, also was reported to have killed himself.

One Czech was arrested by two storm troopers in a hotel lobby after he was overheard to make a derogatory remark about Adolf Hitler—who departed from Prague last night.

Jewish Stores Taken Over.

Under the Nazi protectorate, the Czechs are to be permitted to maintain their own laws insofar as they do not conflict with Germany.

Beginning today—under the Nazi and anti-semitic restrictions—Jewish-owned stores were being taken over by administrators until they can be sold to non-Jews.

Jewish doctors and lawyers no longer can practice here.

Foreign legations were closing down, but the American legation said it had not yet received instructions.

Czech feeling was evident.

Hundreds of persons stood outside the British consulate shouting "We want to get away." Many Czechs journeyed to the tomb of the unknown soldier.

German residents, however, stood outside the mammoth Hradcany Castle much of the day, until Hitler appeared on a castle balcony to receive their salute.

The Czech republic's last president, Dr. Emil Hacha, in a speech last night took responsibility for "placing the Czech people in Hitler's hands."

"I was given the promise that our people would be guaranteed development of their own particular national life," he said.

University Students Protest.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 17.—(AP)—Several thousand Sofia University students were chased by mounted police from the street in front of the former Czecho-Slovak legation today after they demonstrated noisily against the dismemberment of Czecho-Slovakia.

The demonstration occurred just as German diplomatic officials arrived at the legation to take over Czech affairs.

The students reassembled near the parliament building and continued their protests.

(Bulgaria was Germany's ally in the world war.)

Soviet is Ready.

MOSCOW, March 17.—(AP)—Delegates to the 18th All-Union Congress of the Communist party, declared tonight that Soviet Russia was ready to repel an attack, either in the Far East or against the Soviet Ukraine.

Some declared an yattempt to annex the Russian Ukraine might prove a boomerang to an invader, resulting in the creation of more Soviet republics.

BUCHAREST, March 17.—(AP)—The United States legation received reports today that Peter Lessiuk, 19-year-old American cameraman, had been killed Tuesday while trying to photograph fighting at Chust, capital of Carpatho-Ukraine.

Refugees from the region, which was Czecho-Slovakia's eastern outpost, told the legation Lissiuk was killed during a battle between Czech gendarmes and the Ukranians before Hungary annexed Carpatho-Ukraine.

Lissiuk was employed by his father's film company (Dnipro Film company) of New York City.

Meanwhile frontier reports that lawless elements were plundering Rumanian communities on the Carpatho-Ukraine side of the border caused Bucharest authorities to urge the Hungarian army of occupation to send troops into those villages as quickly as possible.

Rooming House West Seventh Ave. Damaged by Fire

Fire originating on a second story sleeping porch resulted in damage estimated by fire department officials at $3,000 to the Justice Rooming House at 305 West Seventh avenue shortly after 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The flames spread rapidly to the entire roof of the two-story structure which contains ten rooms and several apartments, all of which were occupied, and for a time threatened all buildings in the immediate vicinity. Clouds of smoke from the blaze drew a large crowd to the scene and were reported visible more than five miles from town.

Effective work by the Corsicana fire department halted the blaze after the roof had been destroyed, and most of the damage to the lower floor was from water only.

A grass fire at 1115 West Tenth avenue caused a run for the truck from No 2. station about 2:25 Thursday afternoon No damage was reported.

NAVARRO COUNTY BASEBALL ASS'N NAMES OFFICERS

The Navarro County Baseball Association has re-elected the 1938 officers to preside over the association for 1939. Fred Hodgden was re-elected president, Paul Moore, vice president, and C. F. Broughton, secretary.

The association met Wednesday night to hear a report on team eligibility rules for the 1939 season. The eligibility committee has decided that players must live in Navarro county, or if working out of the county must participate in two-thirds of the regular scheduled games to be eligible for the play-off.

A second change relating to players requires that a batter player must not participate with either an organized team or a pick-up team three days prior to a scheduled league game. A batter man cannot participate as a pitcher or catcher in a double header or an aggrepate number of nine innings unless the game is tied. Each team is allowed 20 players and will have through May 14 to file a complete list. All players signed after May 14 will be required to wait two games before being eligible. After July 16 a team cannot make additions. An eight team schedule has been adopted and will begin April 16, continuing through August with a series to open September 3 and play on three consecutive Sundays. A trophy has been donated by the president of the league. Montfort is the defending champion this year.

Teams that have indicated an interest are Montfort, Emhouse, Roane, Dr. Pepper, and Magnolia. Other teams expected to enter are Bazette, Rural Shade, Eureka and Cotton Mill.

FRENCH CABINET APPROVES BILL FOR DICTATORIAL POWERS

SEEK STRENGTHEN NATION AGAINST ANY MENACE OF EXPANDING GERMANY

PARIS, March 17.—(AP)—Premier Daladier introduced a bill in the chamber of deputies tonight demanding unprecedented decree powers, pleading that "it is vital for the nation to act with the same rapidity as dictators."

The premier flatly refused to disclose what he proposed to do with the powers, which would give him virtual dictatorial authority for more than eight months.

"The measure which I propose to take are military measures," Daladier told an open meeting of the chamber. "Perhaps I will state some of my intentions before the chamber committee but certainly not here.'

PARIS, March 17.—(AP)—Premier Daladier called on parliament today for a free hand to govern France by decree until November 30 to bolster the nation's defenses in view of the collapse of Czecho-Slovakia.

The bill to strengthen France against any menace from expanding Germany contained only the one article authorizing decree powers for the period of more than eight months.

It was approved by the cabinet and sent to the Chamber of Deputies.

The chamber began debate on the situation arising from Germany's bloodless conquest of Czecho-Slovakia, once part of France's collective security structure.

A vote of confidence conferring the full powers asked by the Daladier government was expected to conclude the debate.

Communist Deputy Gabriel Peri started the foreign policy debate with an attack on the government for yielding to Germany's expansion in Central Europe.

Despite the hostility of a strong communist and socialist bloc, however, the government counted on its normally small—but steady—conservative majority to push the bill through the lower house tomorrow.

The senate was called for a session Sunday to rush the measure to adoption.

Approved Government Statement.

Teh cabinet also approved a government statement on the Central European situation to be delivered in the chamber of deputies in foreign policy debates starting this afternoon.

The cabinet communique said merely "the bill would confer on the government the powers necessary to consolidate and increase the strength of France."

Political sources said the measure would permit Daladier to govern by decree for a limited period and was drafted for the express purpose of stepping up "industrial mobilization."

Simultaneously a movement for a special mission to Central and Eastern Europe to restore French prestige got under way.

A radical-socialist chamber group met privately and studied a proposal that Edouard Herriot, president of the chamber, and a party of legislators make a flying trip to Rumania, Soviet Russia and other nations which once formed part of France's collective security structure.

Ready Leave Immediately.

Herriot announced he was ready to leave immediately. The plan was understood to have the approval of Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet but Daladier's final word on the scheme was awaited.

The decree powers Daladier sought would give him vast authority to put French industries on a virtual wartime basis.

Tension on another phase of French foreign policy broke into a free-for-all fight between Communist and Nationalist deputies.

Chamber of deputies ushers quickly halted the fist-fighting in the parliamentary corridors. A few legislators were bruised.

The chamber had taken up the Spanish refugee question when a radical Socialist criticized the Communist deputy, Andre Marty, organizer of Madrid government international brigades. Communists shouted protests, the session was suspended and the fight started as about 60 Communists and 15 Nationalists filed out of the chamber.

War Material Superiority.

German seizure of Czecho-Slovakia gave Hitler tremendous superiority of war material.

Military observers pointed out that in 12 hours Hitler had more than wiped out all rearmament efforts made since last September by France and Britain to equal German armament.

The German army took over from Czecho-Slovakia full equipment for 40 divisions, including tanks, some of the best light and heavy artillery in the world, and a vast stock of munitions.

In addition, Hitler added some 1,500 first line airplanes to his already superior military fleet. In the six months since Munich, France has been able to build scarcely a third of that number.

Foreign Minister Bonnet's own newspaper, L'Homme Libie, disclosed the German army even gained possession of Freench secret mobilization plans when it took over the Czech army which was organized and trained by the French.

Two Kidnapped Men Are Found Shot To Death

MILTON, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Kidnaped by a filling station robber, two men were found shot to death today 200 yards off a highway, tied together face to face with cotton rope.

Sheriff Joseph T. Allen identified the victims as Clifford T. Mann and Charles Wilkinson, both of Montgomery, Ala. He said evidence indicated they had been tied together and killed at the spot. There were bullet wounds through the heads, the breasts and the backs.

Mann, 28, was a cashier for the Praetorian Life Insurance company and Wilkinson, 23, was a friend.

Mann and his companion were abducted in Mann's motor car by a gunman who looted a Georgiana, Ala., filling station of $37 last night, the Alabama Highway Patrol reported. The two men had driven to the station for service.

BOY-FACT SURVEY INDICATES MANY IN LINE FOR SCOUTING

ANOTHER SURVEY SEEKING ADULT LEADERS WILL BE MADE IMMEDIATELY

The boy fact survey, which has just been completed with the assistance of W. H. Norwood, superintendent of schools, and the staff of the high school, junior high school, Sam Houston, Travis and Lee in co-operation with the Boy Scouts of America, Circle Ten Council, show that 183 boys want to be Cubs and 267 boys want to be Scouts, according to Carl A. Bryan, special Scout executive, assisting with the program.

The survey calls for a boy's grade in school, the church and Sunday school he attends, as well as his wishes in becoming a Scout. In this survey, boys listed the following churches: First Baptist, North Side Methodist, Second Baptist, Salvation Army, Catholcis, First Christian, Third Avenue Presbyterian, First Presbyterian, Church of God, Full Gospel, Eleventh Avenue Methodist, Episcopal, Church of Christ, Methodist Protestant, Pentacostal, Mexican Presbyterian, Temple Beth-El, Agudas Achim, First Methodist, Calvary Baptist, Memorial Baptist, Nazarene and Corbet Baptist, as their regular place of worship. Indications are there can be at least five troops organized after the preliminary training program for leaders is developed.

At the same time boys were asked to name outstanding men who would make good leaders and to give their reasons for such choice and why he would make a good leader. Questions regarding their free time reading inquired about free time newspapers and books read.

This survey will be followed immediately by another survey of the churches in an endeavor to locate available leadership. The pastors of the city are co-operating in this undertaking. As soon as their names are all assembled training of leaders will begin.

The following Boy-Fact survey blank is to be filled out by boys and young men from 9 to 17 years of age. Please read carefully and answer all questions:

Administration Trying To Solve Cotton Problem

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today the administration was trying to solve the cotton surplus situation without bankrupting the treasury.

Asked at a press conference about a meeting he was having today with Secretary Wallace and a group of regional directors of the agricultural adjustment administration, the President replied that it had to do with what he called the very serious situation presented by the large cotton carry over.

He said the study was getting along fairly well and definite progress was being made.

Various proposals have been made, the Chief Executive added, and one reason why the treasury had opposed a bill by Senator Smith (D-SC) to dispose of cotton surpluses was that it woud cost too much money.

Asked is the program woud provide a subsidy, Mr. Roosevelt said they had not proceeded far enough to put a title on it.

He said the cotton eventually would be sold, dumped of burned.

CHAMBERLAIN SAYS TREMENDOUS EVENTS SHOCKING TO WORLD

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER DISCUSSES HITLER'S BLOODLESS COUP

BIRMINGHAM, England, Mar. 17.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain bitterly condemned Germany tonight for absorption of Czecho-Slovak territory and pledged Great Britain to resist any attempt to dominate the world by force.

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 17.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain charged Adolf Hitler tonight with taking "the law in his own hands" in the absorption of Bohemia and Moravia and the shattering of the British European appeasement policy.

Sepaking before the Birmingham Unionist Association in his hometown on teh eve of his 70th birthday, the prime minister declared:

"I am convinced that after Munich the great majority of the British people shared my hope and ardently desired that the policy should be carried further.

But today I share their disappointment and their indignation that these hopes have been so wantonly shattered."

Reviewing the assurances Hitler had given that he did not want any Czechs, the prime minister asked "what reliance can we place upon any assurances" from Germany.

"What has become of those disclaimers of further territorial ambitions? What has become of those statements of self-determination?"

Continuing his questions, he asked:

"If there were disorders (in Czecho-Slovakia) were they not fomented from without?"

"Can anyone outside Germany take seriously,' that there could have been any danger to Germany?

"Is this last attack upon a small state or is it to be followed by others?

"Is this in fact a step in the direction of an attempt to dominate the world by force?

"Every aspect of our national life," he declared now must be reviewed with a view to the British nation's safety.

He asserted that "the tremendous events which have taken place in Europe this week have thrown everything else into the background."

BIRMINGHAM, England, March 17.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared tonight "the tremendous events which have taken place in Europe this week have thrown everything else into the background."

The prime minister spoke before the Birmingham Unionist association on the eve of his 70th birthday.

"One thing is certain," he said. "Public opinion in the world has received the sharpest blow that has ever been administered by the German regime.

"As to what may be the ultimate result of this profound disturbance of men's minds cannot be foretold but I am sure that its effects upon the future will be far-reaching."

Spring Rise In Retail Trade Is Somewhat Slower

NEW YORK, March 17.—(AP)—The spring rise in retail trade lost some momentum during the past week but merchants regarded unfavorable weeather as a primary factor in the slow down, Dun and Bradstreet reported today.

"With snow and rain hindering the expansion of spring buying, retail trade had difficulty in bettering its total of the preceding week," asserted the firm's survey.

"Men's and women's apparel was most severely affected, a number of stores reporting sales in these departments were below the corrresponding week of 1938 despite the earlier date of Easter this year.

"The low volume of year ago and the earlier Easter this year combined to make the year-to-year comparison favorable. The average for the whole country was estimated 3 to 7 per cent higher than in the 1938 period.

"Compared with the same week a year ago the volume of orders placed was between 4 and 8 per cent larger."

OFFICERS' POSSE SEEKS TRACK DOWN STRAIGHT SHOOTING, RAW MEAT EATING KILLER OFF[illegible]

POWELL, Wyo., March 17.—(AP)—A rifle-wise posse of Wyoming and Montana officers gathered today to track down a raw meat eating, sharp-shooting game poacher who shot and killed two Park county officers after kidnaping a deputy sheriff last night.

Coroner Ray Easton of Park county said Earl Durand, 26, fired three shots at Undersheriff B. M. Baker and Town Marshal Charles E. Lewis of Powell, killing Baker instantly and fatally wounding Lewis.

Durand opened fire on the two officers when they drove up to the ranch home of his parents [illegible] miles northeast of here, [illegible] he had forced Deputy [illegible] Noah Riley to drive him [illegible] escaping the Park county jail at Cody last night.

Just before opening fire, Durand clubbed Riley on the head with a rifle taken from the jail. He had shoved Riley ahead of him as he stepped from the house.

Grabbing two more rifles and a knapsack from the ranch home, Durand went to a neighboring rancher and demanded one more rifle an dammunition, then headed northeastwkard toward the Bear Tooth mountains.

The fugitive, who sometimes lets his hair grow wildly long, is able to forage alone [illegible] s for weeks, "living [illegible] meat of the game [illegible] J. M. Klindt of Po[illegible]

Game W[illegible] Denton, who arrest[illegible] hiding behind a roc[illegible] ay, said Durand was [illegible] a slab of raw beef and e[illegible] he hadn't broiled it bec[illegible] didn't have time and it's [illegible] aw, anyway."

The [illegible] ded officers were found [illegible] W. Durand, the fugitive's [illegible] old father, and Mrs. Du[illegible]. On entering the ranch h[illegible] th Riley, Durand had or-[illegible] his father to make up a pack of provisions and a [illegible]nket and then told both parents to go in a back room and sit there.

Riley, his head swathed in bandages, said he ran from the Durand ranch as soon as the fugitive re-entered the house after firing at Baker and Lewis.

Durand was sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay a $100 fine for killing an elk out of season. He escaped last night by slugging Riley with a milk bottle when the deputy brought him his evening meal. Disarming Riley, Durand ordered him to the sheriff's office where he obtained a rifle and then forred the deputy to drive him to the ranch near here.

FIRST LADY SO IMPRESSED BY TEXAS SIGHTS SHE FORGOT HER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY TODAY

SAN ANTONIO, March 17.—(AP)—Laughin jovially, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt admitted at a press conference here this morning she had forgotten today is her wedding anniversary.

"I really don't remember which anniversary it is. I'd have to add up," she said.

However, a short time later, she was reminded by a long distance telephone call from Washington, presumably from the president.

Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here this morning from Harlingen. She was lavish in her praise of the Rio Grande Valley, declaring it was the first time she had been there.

"I've had two interesting days in the valley," she said, "and it is very interesting and beautiful. The people were kind and showed me a great many new things."

Mrs. Roosevelt revealed her main purpose in conducting lecture tours over the country was because she enjoyed seeing new things, people, conditions and problems. She was particularly impressed in Texas by a chamber of commedce exhibit of the state's natural resources, she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt also found her first dust storm in Sherman, of great interest. She remarked she had heard a great deal of the efforts to solve the dust bowl proplebs, but had never been in a dust storm herself before.

Other problems she had met on her present tour and which have been of interest to her are the water treating difficulties in the valley, and the freight rate differential.

On the latter, she agreed southern shippers were correct on protesting against their higher rates.

President Jokes Newsmen

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, whose wedding anniversary, like St. Patricks Day, is March 17, turned out for his press conference today in a green ensemble—green tweeds, green tie and shamrock.

He opened his conference by inspecting the front row of reporters, and noticing no green except on one newsman, inquired where all the Irishmen were.

With Mrs. Roosevelt more than 1,000 miles away, the president made no plans to celebrate his wedding anniversary except to put in a telephone call to the first lady sometime during the day.

FHA OFFICIALS URGE CO-OPERATION LOCAL CONSRTUCTION DRIVE

CLASSES LOANS, PROJECTS ELIGIBLE MORTGAGE INSURANCE EXPLAINED

Home builders are overlooking a wealth of excellent prospects in the lower income groups from $1,200 to $2,500, representatives of the building trades, realtors and material men from Corsicana, Fairfield and Teague were told by Federal Housing Administration officials at a conference held in the offices of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

R. W. Knight presided at the meeting and presented J. Max Montgomery, mortgage conference representative, as the first speaker. Mr. Montgomery outlined the various classes of loans and projects eligible for mortgage insurance, and listed the various requirements for the presentation of the applications, and the limits on the different types of loans.

Henry Heyn, chief evaluator for the Northeastern Texas district of the FHA, was the second speaker and declared that most contractors and lumber dealers were overlooking a rich field of endeavor in the lower income groups, pointing out that payments of approximately $16.15 per month plus about $5 per month for interest and taxes would amortize a $3,000 home within the time limits of the FHA and would easily come within the amount of rent paid by this class of citizen.

Outlined Procedure.

With the aid of specially prepared charts, the speaker then outlined the procedure followed in the evaluation of the house and location before the federal mortgage insurance was approved. He stated the first consideration was naturally the economic soundness of the loan, and whether or not it would provide improved living conditions.

Taking up the applicant for the loan, Mr. Heyn said his office sought to determine first, teh attitude of the prospective borrower and his social and economic characteristics and the motivation in relation to the transaction; and second, his ability to pay, by a study of his employability and economic stability, and also the relation of the transaction to prior obligations.

A third point listed was the relation of the borrower's income to the amount of the proposed transaction, with a valuation of two and a half times the normal annual income set as the maximum for a home for the applicant.

Taking up the plans for the home to be constructed or purchased, Mr. Heyn said the matter was checked for durability, function, and adjustment for nonconformity. Under the function of the house, the speaker listed several points including livability, adequacy of mechanical equipment such as utilities and conveniences, natural light and ventilation, and architectural attractiveness. He pointed out that the cost of a place was not always its value and proceeded to enumerate a number of possible altering circumstances.

The sepaker said the location for the proposed home was checked from several angles, including the relative economic stability of the other residents of the neighborhood, protection from adverse influences, freedom from special hazards, adequacy of civic, social and commercial centers; adequacy of transportation, sufficiency of utilities and conveniences, level of taxes and special assessments, and general appeal.

He declared the two primary tests of a location were its general marketability or rentability. He then illustrated a "padded" application for a loan and urged cooperation between the various agencies involved to prevent presentation of such, adding that such cases were always discovered in time and ill feelings usually resulted. He said only a few such cases had been filed in the whole state of Texas.

J. L. Lattimore, staff evaluator for the FHA, was introduced to the meeting and offered his assistance in any way possible. Mr. Montgomery then resumed the discussion and pointed out that a total of 8,231 mortgages on homes in Texas had been accepted for insurance, with a total value of $31,419,365. He denied that many homes were being foreclosed because of non-payments, stating only three such cases had occurred in the entire state.

Urges Advertising Campaign.

Mr. Montgomery urged the various agencies interested in home construction to co-operate in the staging of a consistent advertising campaign, insisting the continuous presentation of facts about new homes and opportunites would pay dividends.

An open forum session was conducted at the close of the meeting and a number of questions pertaining to house plans, construction, and mortgage risks were presented and answered by the FHA represenatives.

Messrs. Montgomery and Heyn remained in Corsicana Friday for conferences with local dealers and realtors, and inspected a number of prospective sites for new homes.

TWO EDUCATIONAL SHOWS PROVIDED IN SCHOOLS OF KERENS

KERENS, March 17.—(Spl.)—The entire student body of the Kerens schools, including both high and grammar, met in general assembly in the auditorium Thursday for two educational shows.

The first, held during the morning hours, was a dentistry puppet show sent out by the state board of health, which included a very realistic three-scene drama depicting the importance of regular care of the teeth.

Under the direction of Mr. Wilkerson and Miss Snow, this miniature marionette theatre proved very interesting, especially to the smaller children.

In the afternoon a traffic safety moving picture show was sent out by the Chevrolet Company, and sponsored by the Kerens Safety Council under the direction of R. P. Walker, traffic safety director for this district, was shown in three scenes, the first showing an efficiency patrol in action, and giving rules for pedestrians; the second dealt with "color harmony" and the third was a lesson based on "1000 hours of education."

Both these shows were well planned and told their story, each with its valuable lesson, in very entertaining manner.

Attend Zone Meeting.

KERENS, March 17.—(Spl.)—The following members of the Methodist Missionary Society were in Blooming Grove Friday to attend an all-day zone meeting: Mrs. A. B. Keen, Mrs. Will Talley, Mrs. Jack Fite, Mrs. August Hill, Mrs. G H Sanders, Mrs R. A. Crosby. Rev. R. A Crosby also attended.

Official LAWLESSNES [illegible] CZECHOSLOVAKIAN OCCUPATION SCORED

PRESIDENT DECLARES DEVELOPMENTS SHOW NEED FOR NEUTRALITY REVISION

WASHINGTON, Mar. 17.—(AP)—The United States government expressed today its "condemnation" of Germany's "wanton lawlessness" and "arbitrary force" in occupying Czecho-Slovakia.

With the approval of President Roosevelt, Acting Secretary of State Welles issued a formal statement in which he spoke of Germany's absorption of most of Czecho-Slovakia as a "Temporary extinguishment of the liberties of a free and independent people with whom, from the day when the Republic of Czecho-Slovakia attained its independence, the people of the United States have maintained specially close and friendly relations."

Welles declared: "It is manifest that acts of wanton lawlessness and of arbitrary force are threatening world peace, and the very structure of modern civilization."

The acting secretary of state made his statement after conferring with the President and said it had received the Chief Executive's approval.

"This government," he said, "founded upon and dedicated to the principles of human liberty an of democracy, cannot refrain from making known this country's condemnation of the acts" of Germany.

Need For Neutrality Revision.

Earlier, the President told a press conference European developments demonstrated the need for a revision of the American neutrality act, at this session of congress.

Welles said questions with regard to United States diplomatic relations with the old Czecho-Slovak government are now under consideration.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, he said, would have an announcement to make, probably tomorrow, with regard to the trade agreement with Czechho-Slovakia.

Welles declared he had nothing as yet to say on the question of Czecho-Slovakia's debts to the United States.

Welles' strong statement was issued, he said, despite the fact that this government has received no communication from any foreign government regarding what has taken place in Central Europe.

The President, at his press conference, told one newsman that he believed revision of the neutrality law could be worked out in conferences instead of his recommendations for changes being put in the form of a message to Capitol Hill.

Would Not Go Into Detail.

Mr. Roosevelt would not go into detail. Heretofore, there have been reports the administration would prefer greater freedom or flexibility in imposing arms embargoes in event of foreign wars.

Asked if his recommendations would go beyond the act's provision requiring that belligerents pay cash and carry in their own ships materials purchased in this country, the Chief Executive suggested his message of January 4 oe read.

(Mr. Roosevelt's message of January 4 was his annual report on the state of the nation. In it he said: "We have learned that when we deliberately try to legislate neutrality, our neutrality laws may operate unevenly and unfairly—may actually give aid to an aggressor and deny it to the victim."

Another inquiry was whether the United States would recognize General Franco's government in Spain. The President replied the loyalist government still had an ambassador in Washington.

The President went over the European situation before his press conference with Undersecretary Welles of the state department.

School Election Declared Void In District Court

A recent school consolidation election in Mt. Nebo was declared void at the conclusion of a hearing on a contest before Wayne R. Howell, district judge, Saturday morning.

Returns of the election in Mt. Nebo and Richland for the consolidation of these two districts held recently showed 19 for the consolidation and 18 against it at Mt. Nebo, and 32 for and none against the proposal in the Richland precinct. The above returns were canvassed and declared recently at a meeting of the Navarro county commissioners' court.

The contest of the election, styled C. C. Frost vs. Chas. T. Banister et al, was filed and the hearing was held Saturday. The ballots were opened from the Mt. Nebo box and in orders issued by Judge Howell, L. M. McKinley was found not to be a qualified voter and his ballot for the measure was disallowed, making it an 18-18 tie, and the following notation was made on the docket by Judge Howell:

"and election thereof failed to carry by a majority and is accordingly so ordered—and to be certified to commissioners' court of Navarro county for observance."

GOOD SENSE AT HOME

Much has been said in recent years by viewers-with-alarm about the decadence of the American home as shown by increasing divorce, crime, and other social problems. The seriousness of these evils can not be over-emphasized, and there is urgent need that they be studied, understood and corrected. Yet there is hope for the American home. It lies in conditions already existing, but frequently overlooked.

A study made for the National Council of Parent Education and the Progressive Education Association produced these facts: Ninety-two per cent of the husbands and wives studied handle the family money co-operatively. Eighty per cent of them take joint responsibility for the management of the children. Sixty per cent share in the management of household. Three-fifths of the husbands help with housework.

If these statistics are true and representatitve, there is still a good deal of wholesome companionship and co-operation in the home. The existence of the Parent Education Council and the Progressive Education Association suggests that there is also a serious and active interest in maintaining family ideals and raising family standards of living and behavior.

STEEL MEMORIES

Charles M. Schwab, at the age of 77, is giving up his 75-room chateau on Riverside Drive, New York. He has other homes, which no longer interest him. He will go to a hotel. But he remains in the steel business.

What a book the memories of this man would make! With him the American steel industry, greatest in the world, grew up. While still a boy, he was Andrew Carnegie's "right-hand man" and charged with authority. He came into the business just about the time when the Meshaba Range was discovered in Minnesota, the greatest deposit of iron ever known, easily mined with steam shovels and ferried down the Great Lakes for reduction and manufacture.

An inventor's "continuous tobacco pipe" gave Schwab the idea of a continuous steel mill. When Carnegie sold out to a big syndicate and retired to the public library business, Schwab at 39 became the first president of the great United States Steel Corporation. It was at the beginning of the century. Since then the United States has produced nearly half the steel in the world, and around this basic industry has centered our industrial progress.

Mention of Mr. Schwab suggests "a race of giants" associated with him and now gone — J. Pierpont Morgan the elder, H. H. Rogers, John W. Gates, E. H. Gary, George W. Perkins, William Nelson Cromwell, and many another active in the early years of Big Steel

U. S. Steel was born the first great "trust," and its youthful president was paid $1,000,000 a year. That was an immense income a generation ago. His corporation was capitalized at perhaps double its market value, and what a stream of securities has flowed from that first generous watering!"

But its ownership spread so that George W. Perkins was soon declaring, "The people of the United States have bought the steel business." It was our first big, popular plunge into industrial investment. And such general participation in business ownership has been called "our American form of Socialism."

Britain and other countries are recognizing Franco, but Spain is not recognizable any more.

OLD MAN WITH A BROKEN NOSE

Hey little chap behind the glass,
You may be "mighty like a rose,"
But look at me the while I pass,
The old man with the broken nose.

Since you've arrived, I count no more,
You've come between my wife and me.
Our years of comradeship are o'er,
With you, she hurries off to be.

For four and thirty years I've played
Round here a most important part,
But such a difference you have made!
In four days you have won her heart!

"I won't be home tonight for tea!
Sit up and read or go to bed!"
That's all today she leaves for me:
Notes on the table to be read!

"Take just one word of love from me,"
I cry to her, as off she goes,
"And tell him I am glad to be
The old man with the broken nose."

THE GUAM AIR BASE.

The Guam debate still seems to be going on, althought the $5,000,000 asked for it has been omitted from the pending appropriation bill. There is a good deal of confusion about it, because the "Guam question" appears to be really two questions, arising from two different proposals.

One proposal was to improve the aviation facilities at Guam, usable by private airway lines that are pioneering in trans-Pacific routes. The harbor would be dredged and a landing field provided, with some other essentials, but without military defenses. This would have made an air base available to the government's naval planes as well as the private planes. For this purpose the government asked $5,000,000. Such work has already been done on Wake and Midway Islands, in the same chain.

The other idea, not officially submitted but discussed by naval and military men, was the fortification of Guam as a military and naval stronghold in the western Pacific. The cost of such a project might run up to $200,000,000. It was fear of this development, now or later, which so excited the Japanese government and led to the refusal of Congress to approve the more peaceful and inexpensive plan for an air base.

Many believe that this minor job will be done before long, perhaps through an appropriation bill carrying a provision against fortification.

FATIGUE

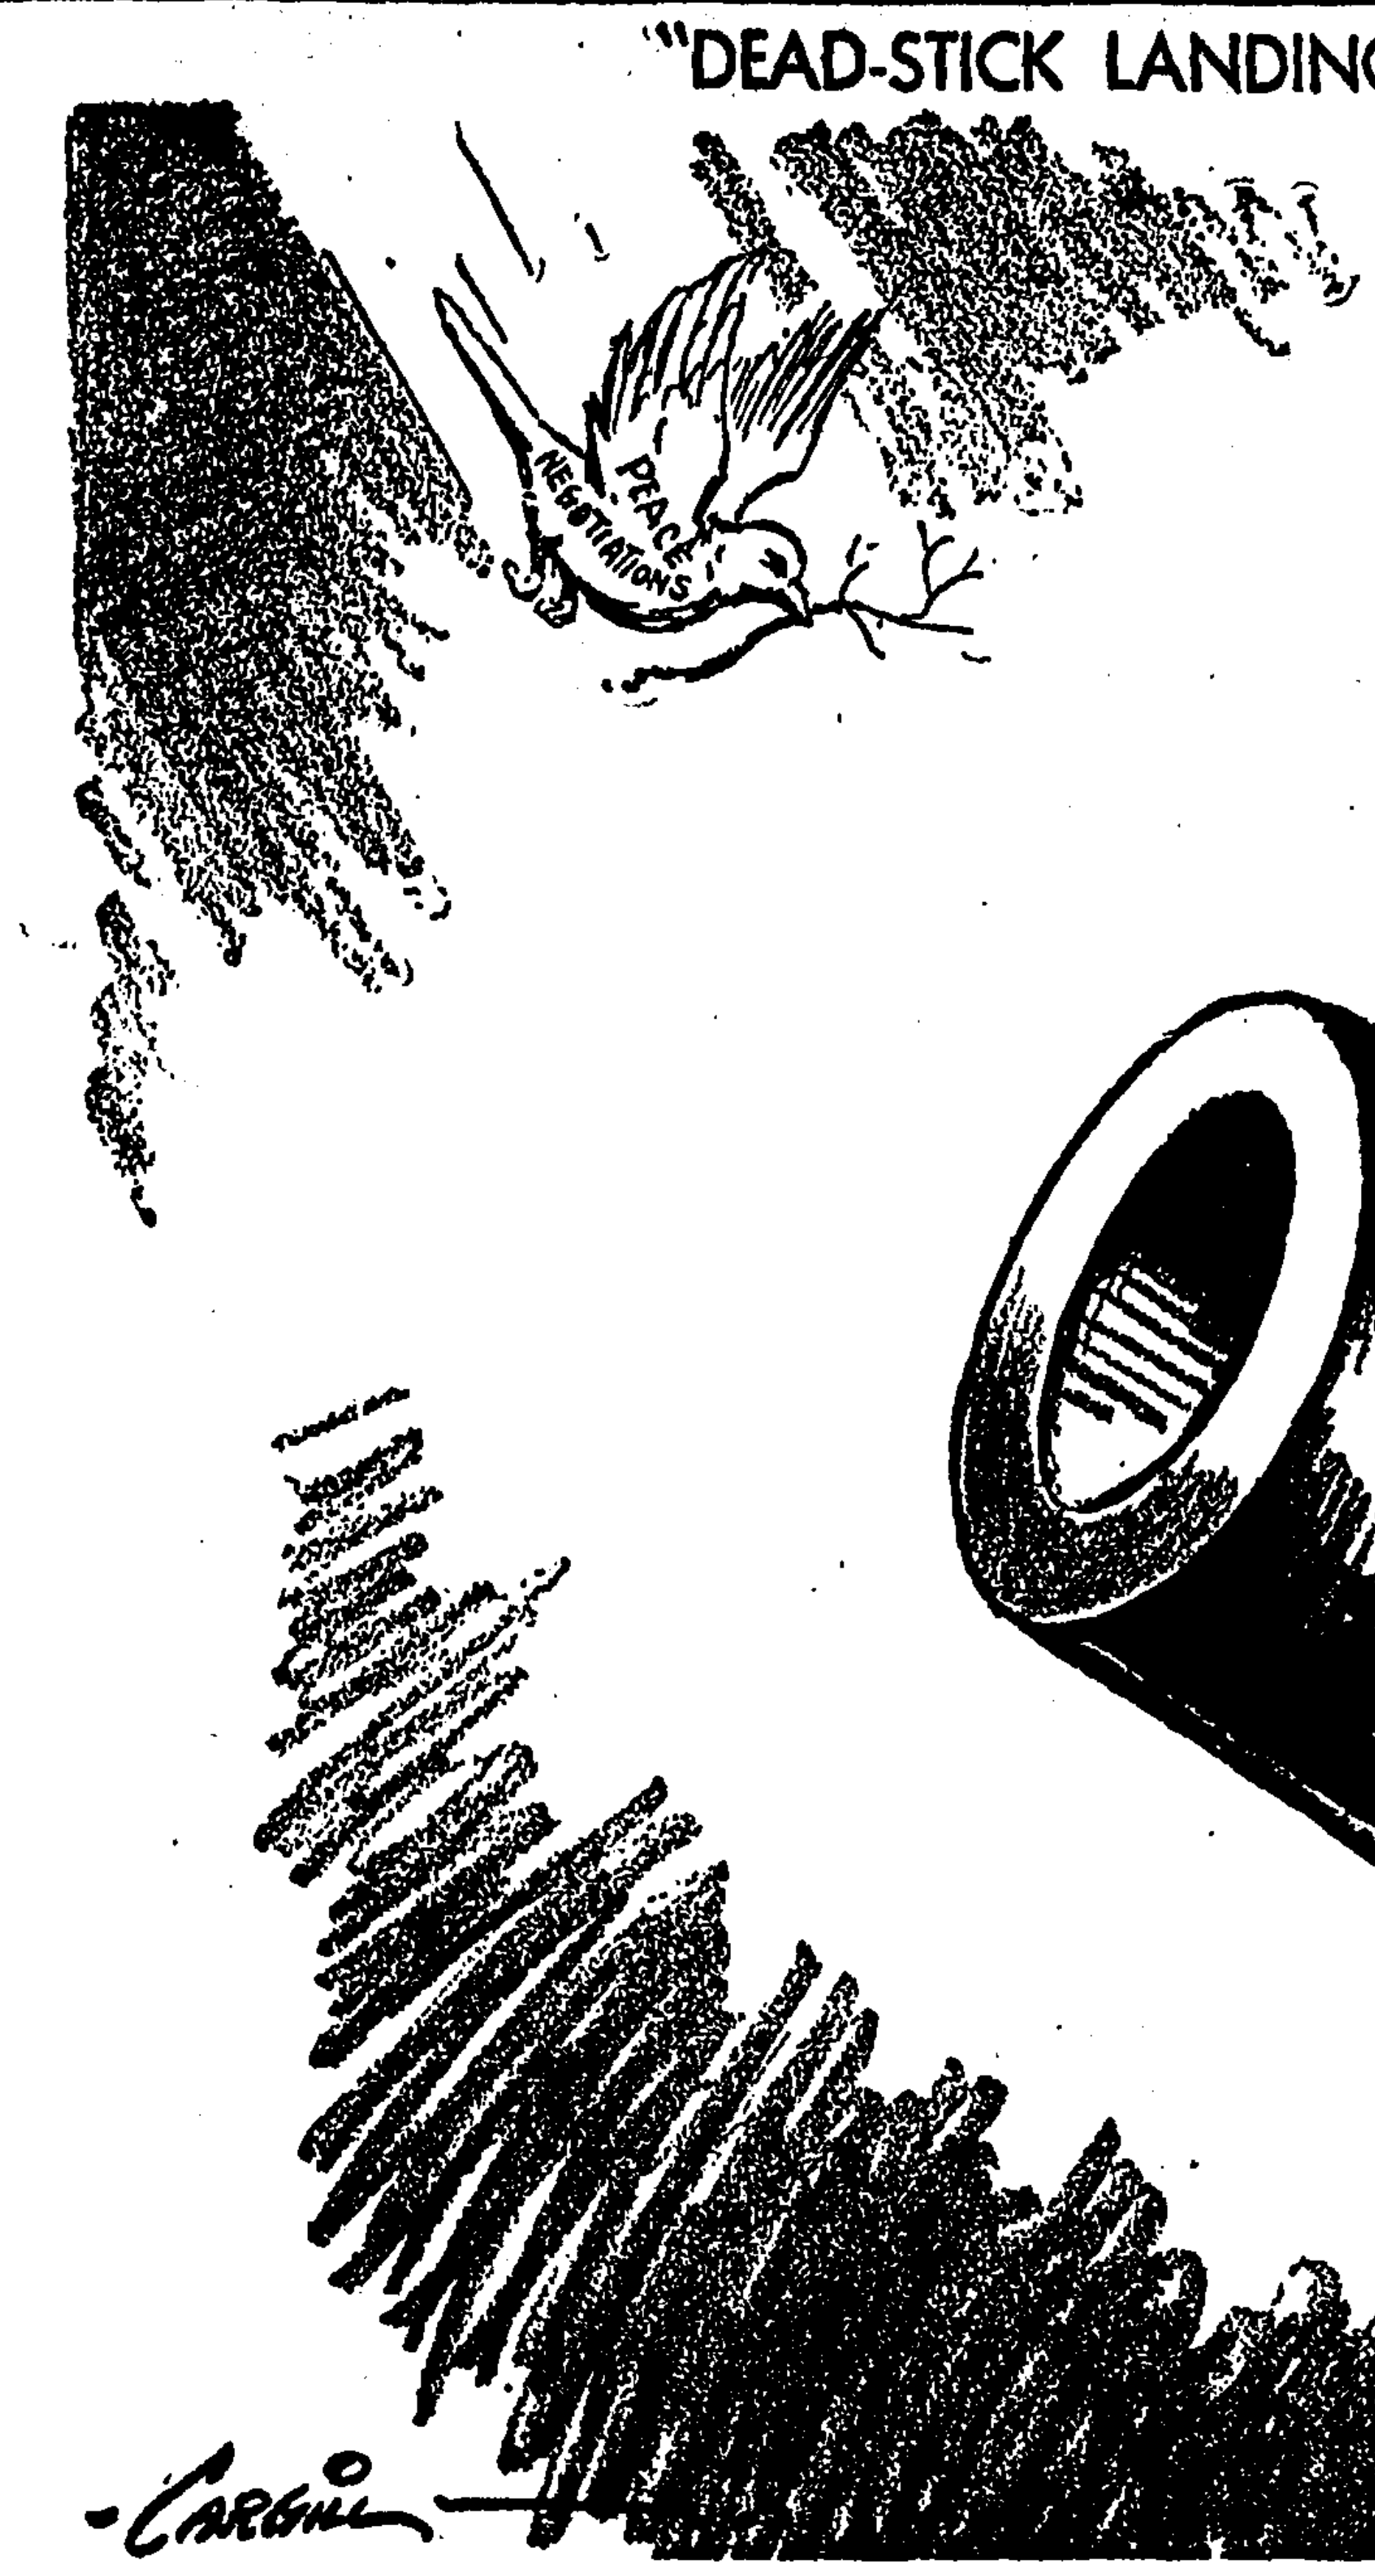
Overwork is only one possible cause of that tired feeling, the doctors tell us. There are persons who feel tired even after a night's rest. Their fatigue may be caused by any of several factors.

Poor circulation, poison in the body, chemical disorders and cell changes, and lack of vitamins or other food essentials, will cause tiredness. Worry, which is now recognized as a hazard to health, will contribute to fatigue.

The moral of all this is that excessive fatigue, from which one does not recover after normal rest, is a symptom which should be looked into. If the cause is discovered, the remedy applied, and the fatigue cured, its victim will immediately do better work and get more fun out of life.

Fatigue, unfortunately, is one of those things we too rarely do anything about. Yet it is a warning signal which must be heeded if a crash is to be avoided.

"DEAD-STICK LANDING!"



PRIMING BRAZIL'S PUMP

After prolonged conversations at Washington between government representatives and the genial Brazilian foreign minister, Oswaldo Aranha, credits of $20,000,000 have been arranged for purchase of American goods. This is done through the Export-Import Bank. The Brazilian government is also expected to resume payments on old bonds held by Americans. The alternative to such credits was to let Brazil continue buying from Germany and Italy, which sell cheaply and grant long credits and sell political propaganda along with their goods.

This arrangement should be profitable on both sides. The two countries are naturally friendly and find it easy to get along with each other. We could well afford to lubricate commercial relations with a few of the other Latin-American countries in like manner.

Potential bank credit is at present our most plentiful resource. We need it applied here at home, too, by billions, to loosen our business log-jam and speed up industry.

A FAMILY MATTER

The public is naturally interested and amused when Elliott Roosevelt, broadcasting at Fort Worth airs this suggestion to Dad and the latter's associates:

"The present administration has talked long and loudly about the necessity of raising wages in the South and Southwest, but as yet the issue has never been faced squarely. It certainly appears to me that it is up to Congress and the Administration to listen to our pleas."

It would be just too bad if Dad were not listening to that. And if there appeared to be any recalcentrancy in the White House, Elliott might persuade other junior members of the family to "turn on the heat." With one Roosevelt son in the radio business, a daughter and son-in-law in the newspaper business, another son in the movie business, and still another in the department store business, not to mention Eleanor's multitudinous contacts with American life, the President should be able to get out of his family almost any practical information he needs on the state of the nation.

"Europe's hope is in Africa," says a French statesman. And where is Africa's hope?

ONE-THIRD FOR LABOR

A corporation whose business is spread pretty well over the country reported that out of every dollar it collected from its customers last year, 32 cents were paid to employees, two cents to the stockholders and one cent put aside for a reserve. The remaining 65 cents went for raw materials, transportation, taxes and other expenses.

The most interesting fact, to most people, is the comparative reward of capital and labor. For every dollar going to employees, only a little more than six cents went to the stockholders. This will surprise wage-earners who cherish the old notion that the stockholders get most of the money.

Sometimes to be sure, in the prosperous times, the stockholders do get a larger "cut" than this from the gross income, but in any normal industry the workers' share is always far greater than the owners' share.

This country still has a blind date with destiny.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Jones Ranch Club.

The Jones Ranch Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Henry Miles on March 15, with Fiften members and one new member, Mrs. Vernon Hyer. The roll was called by Mrs. Earl Way and each member answered with what was the most useful thing in the kitchen.

The minutes were read by the president, Mrs. Guy Tullos. The club then discussed the County Fair and what the club would enter in the fair. The club then enjoyed a very interesting talk by the home demonstration agent, Miss Clara E. Rettiger, on The Large Equipment for the Kitchen. The talk was enjoyed very much and proved to be a very unusual one.

The club was turned over to the hostess and refreshments of cheese sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served.

METHODIST WOMEN OF ZONE ONE MEET IN BLOOMING GROVE

MEMBERS PRESENT FROM MANY SOCIETIES IN CORSICANA DISTRICT

Zone No. 1 of the Woman's Missionary Society met with the Blooming Grove Auxiliary Friday, March 17, at 10 a.m. Mrs. A. G. Griffin, zone chairman, presided. The meeting opened with the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."

Mrs. Griffin led the devotional using as her theme music. She read for her scripture lesson I Sam. 16:11-25 which includes a wonderful example of the power of music. She said that music is an elementary part of our being and that it has charms to ease the troubled breast. She further said there is much in the kind of songs and the spirit in which they are sung.

Following the devotional Mrs. G. H. Sanders of Kerens spoke on "The Duties and Requirements of a Good President." She opened her discussion by saying that a good president should be able to actively advance the work, to smooth out difficulties, have enduring patience, an open mind, be capable of getting the most work out of her women; in other words be a tactful Christian leader.

Mrs. M. Dick Lowry of Chatfield in talking on "How to Interest and Enlist Young Women" said that among our best leaders are a number of young women, that they had had better educational advantages than some of our older women which gave them better leadership qualities; young women are interested in club work and that the Woman's Missionary Society, having a complete club program, naturally appeals to wide-awake, active people.

Vocal Solo

At this time we were favored with a solo by Mrs. C. C. Isbell of Blooming Grove titled "Wonderful Jesus."

The subject, Superintendent of Study, was presented by Mrs. H. V. Baine of Frost, who thold us that too much stress could not be put on knowing how to be a good superintendent, but said that most of us know more than we are willing to do. She suggested that a good plan was to stay posted by World Outlook. Be prepared to teach and watch women carry out the work. Instill into the women a keen desire to be enlightened in our work to be willing to work, to be a true Christian and to live according to St. Paul's words, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth.

Mrs. Clyde Gray then told us the value of the World Outlook, telling how anybody can be benefited by reading it. It is good reading, does not contain sensational news, but its articles are those that can be depended upon to contain facts gleaned from all parts of the world. It is a periodical for old and young alike.

In the absence of a representative from Emhouse Mrs. Lowry graciously consented to appear on the program the second time and discuss the Christian Social Relations Work. She said that it is Christianity applied and that its interests include world peace, international affairs, peace relations, public affairs of government, industrial problems, child labor and lynching. In fact it includes the whole missionary program of our church.

Bible in Germany

Mrs. Longbotham of Wortham, district superintendent of Spiritual Life opened her remarks by telling us that the Bible has been classed as a poisoning to children in Germany. How important has the study of the Bible been to us? What does God mean to us in our daily life? Do we know God until we meet Him face to face? she asked. She urged the women to earnestly pray for the suffering of Europe. In her plans for the year's work she gave reemphasis of how it should be carried on.

Mrs. Johnson of Blooming Grove, who attended the Woman's Council in Asheville, N. C., gave us some echoes from there.

The importance of attending the Retreat at Georgetown which convenes a few weeks hence was stressed by both Mrs. Longbotham and Mrs. Stroud.

Mrs. J. K. Stroud, district secretary, gave most helpful remarks and suggestions as how to make every department of our work more effective.

Business Session

A business session was then held which included the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, the same being approved as read. The calling of the roll to which the following auxiliaries answered: Chatfield, 1, Emhouse 4, Roane 2, Tupelo 1, Barry 6, Mertens 5, Kerens 4, Frost 5, Richland 8, North Corsicana 4, First Church, Corsicana 9, Blooming Grove 28, making a total of 77.

A general status of the respective auxiliaries was given.

It was voted to make Mrs. J. R. Griffin a life member by the Zone.

Roane is the next meeting place, the date to be fixed later.

We were dismissed with prayer led by Rev. Morrison.

A covered dish luncheon was served by the hostess society and was truly appreciated and enjoyed by all present.

ZONE SECRETARY.

CZECH GOVERNMENT REORGANIZES UNDER NAZI PROTECTORATE

CABINET CALLED TO SET UP NEW REGIME IN ACCORDANCE WITH NAZI IDEAS

PRAGUE, March 18.—(AP)—The Czech cabinet meets today to recognize the government of Bohemia and Moravia under the German protectorate in accordance with the ideas of Nazilsm.

It was the second time within six months that the Czechs found it necessary to revamp their state organization. The first was after Munich and loss of Sudetenland.

The cabinet of Rudolf Beran remains at least for the present, and Dr. Emil Hacha still bears the title of president under nazi supervision.

The cabinet was called to set up a new regime by changing the constitution, abolishing the senate and delegating the chamber of deputies to legislate with all its members belonging to one party—the National Unity party.

Only two parties have existed since the Munich conference carved up the country and forced the Czechs to give up the luxury of many parties and free criticism.

General Rudolf Gajda, Fascist leader, issued an order to his anti-Semetic followers forbidding them to take individual action against Jews, since legal measures to restrict Jews already are being enforced.

Hhe frontiers will be opened again Sunday to everyone not wanted by the secret police. Trains are scheduled to run regularly. Since Wednesday they had been shut to general traffic, although a few foreigners, among them some Americans, got in and out with special passes after demonstrating urgent necessity.

Rumania Is Worried.

BUCHAREST, March 18.—(AP)—Rumania, confronted with Germany's new eastward thrust and comprehensive nazi economic proposals, is giving urgent consideration to her dangerous position.

King Carol, meeting with the crown council and general staff in a lengthy session during the night, discussed Rumania's relations with Germany from both trade and military angles.

Germany is negotiating for more of Rumania's trade but foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu declared nazi economic proposals did not constitute an ultimatum.

(In London a spokesman of the Rumanian legation said his government had received and rejected sweeping demands by Germany for complete economic cooperation as the price of guarantees of Rumania's territorial integrity.

"The demands were described as being virtually of ultimatum character.)

The Crown Council found "military and diplomatic measures" taken so far were satisfactory and advised their continuance.

Government quarters, while denying any mobilization of specific classes had been ordered, acknowledged that border points had been strengthened and military leaves cancelled.

Germany's eastward thrust has brought her closer to this country's rich oil resources and wealth of other products.

Protector Named.

BERLIN, March 18.—(AP)—Baron Konstantin Von Neurath, president of the Nazi secret cabinet council and former foreign minister, today was named German protector of Bohemia and Moravia.

His official residence will be Prague and he will have wide powers of veto over measures by the administration of the new protectorate, part of the former Czecho-Slovakia.

He is to retain his functions as president of the secret council set up Feb. 12, 1938, shortly before the annexation of Austria.

Demonstrate Against Germany

WARSAW, March 18.—(AP)—Twenty persons were under arrest today following an attempt of 200 youthful socialists to the foreign office with shouts of "down with Germany!"

The demonstration occurred last night but police halted the socialists before they could reach the foreign office.

Nazi Air Force Strengthened.

BERLIN, March 18.—(AP)—Field Marshal Goering announced today formation of a new air force command for Germany's new eastern domains, a move officially described as "a tremendous strengthening of the German air force."

In official quarters it was said this step meant "exceeding all plans hitherto made for building up" the Reich's already powerful military aviation.

Goering, as air minister, announced the new command would embrace Austria, Bohemia, Moravia and parts of the Sudetenland and Silesia.

Lieut-Gen. Alexander Loehr, until now in charge of the air force or Ostmark (Austria) was promoted to be general of aviation and placed in command of the new unit.

Ancient Log On Exhibition Here

The Lyon-Gray Lumber Co. is exhibiting a log block cut from the large forests of long leaf yellow pine belonging to the Wier Long Leaf Lumber Co., of Wiergate, Texas. According to the rings in the block, the tree had reached the age of 247 years. The tree had obtained an age of maturity while this nation was in the making of settlements.

The block measures from thirty-three to thirty-four inches in circumference, and is twenty-four inches high. In the middle of the log there is a long crack, probably inflicted by the fall at the time it was cut. Among the rings there are more than twenty-five heavy ones which represent the years and cycles of precipitation, during the life of the pine, and also is still in an excellent state of preservation.

Student Savings Account System In Local Schools

The Corsicana public schools will inaugurate a student savings account system Tuesday, March 21, school and bank officials have announced.

The system to be put into effect in the Corsicana schools is one that is now being used successfully in schools throughout the United States. At the present time 27,000 pupils are participants in the savings system in the Dallas schools, Alton Justiss, official of the State National Bank who made a preliminary survey of the Dallas system, has stated.

Plans for the establishment of a thrift program for the Corsicana schools have been advanced by the P. T. A. and its officials. Public school teachers have their approval at a recent general faculty meeting when Superintendent W. H. Norwood called the entire faculty together for a consideration of the program. At that time Mr. Justiss, the Rev. C. R. Haden and Mrs. Lynne Wortham, president of the city P. T. A. Council, addressed the meeting.

Savings accounts will be under the direction of both school and bank officials with home-room teachers, and a school banker for each school co-operating.

New Accounts.

New accounts can be opened any banking day with a minimum deposit of twenty-five cents. Deposits thereafter may be made on any bank day in amounts of ten cents or more. Withdrawals will require the written consent of parent or guardian. Withdrawals during the summer months are permissible and will be made from the State National Bank.

Interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum will be credited by the bank on June 15 each year. No interest will be paid on fractional parts of a dollar.

SENATOR CONNALLY DECLARES EXISITING FREIGHT RATES BAD

PRESENT SYSTEM 'FREEZES' INDUSTRY IN FAVORED AREAS UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, March 18.—(AP)—Senator Connally (D-Texas) protested today that the existing national freight rate system "artifically freezes industry" in favored areas of the United States.

The Texas senator testified before a senate interstate commerce subcommittee in support of bills by Southern senators calling for a revision and equalization of freight rates.

"The real power to control freight rates rests with congress," Connally said.

"The least we can do is indicate to the interstate commerce commission the views of congress as to rate structures."

Support for rate revision also came from Senator Papper (D-Fla.).

The Florida senator said "the South and the West have been struggling uphill against economic forces, including discriminatory freight rates."

Connally asserted his home state of Texas and the entire Southwest "suffers more from inequalities and rate discriminations than any other section of the United States."

Teh Texan said that when dates for this area were first stabilized the long distances and small volume forced high rates to support new railroads.

And, Connally complained that this same theory of high rates had been "maintained notwithstanding the fact that the territory has developed fully and volume increased many, many times."

Sort of Subsidy.

Toh Texan suggested that carriers operating in higher rate territories should receive a larger share of joint-rates that at present on shipments to and from low rate areas.

"This might be considered as sort of a subsidy for some areas, but this is a national problem," Connally said.

After a third Southern senator, Stewart (O-Tenn.), had testified in support of rate revisions, Chairman Hill (D-Ala) of the subcommittee, announced the hearing had been completed.

Connally suggested the national idea adapted to postal rates should apply to some extent on freight.

"It doesn't cost any more to send a letter from Boston to San Francisco than from Washington to Baltimore," the Texan said. "Everybody agrees that's a good thing but some take a different attitude on freight rates."

Involves More Than Rates.

Connally declared that "this problem involves more than freight rates."

"It involves the whole economic structure of the West and the Southwest," he said. "We cannot allow this veto power of rates over development of areas."

Connally said the problem was not sectional.

"It is national," he said. "I'm not speaking for my area alone. I'm speaking for the West, the Pacific Northwest and the Pacific Coast.

"Rate equalization would let industries spread to those areas for which the yare best suited. It would stabilize industry, employment and agriculture."

Connally said the Western part of Texas hsad been "especially penalized."

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce now has a case pending before the interstate commerce commission from the city of El Paso which they hope will gain some relief," he said.

Connally offered resolutions from the Texas legislature, the Fort Worth Trade Council and other business and civic groups backing the proposed legislation.

BARON VON NEURATH REICHS-PROTECTOR BOHEMIA, MORAVIA

BERLIN NAZI SPOKESMEN BRAND AS 'ARRANT NONSENSE' FOREIGN PROTESTS

BERLIN, March 18.—(AP)—German foreign office spokesman today declared Germany would meet with "sharpest repudiation" British and French notes denouncing absorption of Czecho-Slovakia as illegal.

With Adolf Hitler on his way home from Vienna and the pace of his Drang Nach Osten—March to the East—quickening at the threshhold of Rumanian oil and wheat fields, Berlin officialdom stood its ground and declared erasure of the Czecho-Slovak republic was "done legally."

Meanwhile Hitler put Germany's authority over her new Bohemian-Moravian protectorate in the skilled diplomatic hands of Baron Konstattin von Neurath today while officals indicated they attached primary importance to United States and British official condemnation of the seizure of Czecho-Slovakia.

Von Neurath, president of the Nazi secret cabinet council and former foreign minister was named reichs-protector of the 7,000,000 inhabitants of Bohemia-Moravia before Hitler left Vienna for home after a three-day tour of his new realm.

Nazi spokesmen in Berlin branded as 'arrant nonsense" foreign reports Hitler had put Hungary and Rumania next on his list for subjugation on his march to the East.

Speaking of the condemnations of Germany's course by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles and Prime Minister Chamberlain an offical spokesman in Berlin said every syllable must be weighed" before any official German reply is made.

Semi-official comment issued later on Chamberlain's Birmingham speech, in which the prime minister condemned Germany's "wanton" absorption of Czecho-Slovakia, said his words lacked objectivity.

This comment declared such statements from statesmen of Western powers gave the small nations of southeast Europe false ideas of the roles they could play after the Munich accord extended German power to the southeast.

Welcome Postponement.

Though Hitler left Vienna this morning, spokesmen said he probable would not reach Berlin tonight and that elaborate welcoming ceremonies had been postponed until Sunday evening. The feuhrer's route was kept secret, but it seemed probable he would travel through Reichsenberg and Breslau.

Semi-official comment on Chamberlain's speech charged that, despite frequent German press warnings, newspapers of Western nations had left nothing undone to make the Czechs think they could "flout the spirit" of the Munich pact.

This comment denied that Hitler had departed from his policy of incorporating only Germans into the Reich. The form in which the ancient connection between Germany and Bohemia-Moravia was re-established—creation of a protectorate—was cited as a refutation of this charge.

It was argued additionally that Hitler never, at Munich or elsewhere, had renounced his right to play a leading role in Central Europe.

The inspecting officer was highly complimentary of the work done by the drill team of the local commandery and followed his work with an enlightening address on the work of this Masonic body.

Prior to the meeting in the Masonic Hall, the grand generalissimo was guest of honor at a dinner at the Navarro Coffee Shop attended by officers of the Corsicana Commandery.

CHAMBER COMMERCE SPONSOR CAMPAIGN RID COUNTY CROWS

A vigorous campaign against crows and their annual depredations was proposed at a meeting of the agricultural committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon according to information received Saturday.

The local committee now proposed to offer $2.50 for the first ten live crows in good physical condition submitted to the chamber in the immediate future. The committee then proposes to release these ten birds, properly marked and banded and a cash prize of $5 per bird will be paid when and one of the ten is returned dead to the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

This action was taken after members of the committee had testified on the maraudings of the crows on the young turkey crops over the county and also on grain crops.

Representations will also be presented to the state legislature in the near future asking them to place a small bounty on dead crows in order to eradicate the pests from the state, members of the committee reported.

A proposal to sponsor a contest on trench silos in Navarro county was taken under advisement and definite recommendations are scheduled at the next meeting.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY

By VERONICA DENGEL

LOVELY HAIR ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Why, oh why, are some girls so blind to the condition of their hair? Too often I find that careful attention is given to make-up and cothes, but somehow, some girls think that if their hair is curled that is all they need to consider. Lovely hair has always been called a woman's "crowning glory," and indeed this is a fitting description when that coronet shines with the beauty of cleanliness, gleams with health that reflects careful brushing, and sparkles with the perfection of its arrangement.

Hair health and beauty is a vitally important factor in your charm program. I don't think women realize that men are frequently attracted by lovely hair more quickly than they are by a pretty face. But when both are found in the one person, the effect is devastating.

Wash your hair once a week if it is oily or exposed to much dirt or soot. Surely you won't let it go longer than two weeks, regardless of the press of other affairs. Soap it well with a liquid soap and work up a thick lather. Rinse thoroughly, then soap it again; Rinse, and soap a third time. Then, rinse it in several water—gallons of it; and when the hair seems to "squeak" under your fingers, it is clean. Very soon I shall give you a wonderful rinse that you can make at home. It will bring out unsuspected lights in your hair. Do try it.

One suit was styled Murray Edward Frost, by next friend, vs. Interstate Circuit, Inc., assault and battery and false imprisonment. The suits were filed by Charles C. Sapp, local attorney, and seek $1,000 actual and $6,000 examplary damages each.

W. E. Frost was listed as next friend for George Frost, while M. L. Frost was named next friend for Murray Edward Frost.

BRITISH

The prime minister made the re-armament announcement after British officials also had stated that the government "may be expected to continue" closest discussions with Soviet Russia on Germany's expanding empire.

Chamberlain spoke after an extraordinary cabinet session had decided to communicate immediately with Soviet Russia, Poland, Bulgaria and the Balkan entente states — Greece, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Turkey.

Authoritative sources, meanwhile, disclosed that both the prime minister and his foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, had been "greatly enheartened" by Washington's condemnation of the German putsch in Southeastern Europe and the American reaction generally.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky, who has been in contact with Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax more frequently than any other diplomat since Saturday, again called at the foreign office for a discussion with Lord Halifax.

Chamberlain was asked whether, in view of Germany's acquisition of Czecho-Slovakia's war materials, he intended revising Britain's five-year defense program which started as a $7,500,000,000 plan and already has been expanded as a result of past crises.

Program Be Revised

Chamberlain replied in measured tones:

"As I stated in my speech of Friday last, every aspect of national defense must now be revised in the light of our national safety and this statement, of course, covers the national defense program."

He indicated also that the government might consider banning sale to Germany of British pig and scrap iron, vital to the manufacture of armaments.

The question of universal conscription rapidly was becoming a political issue in Britain.

Chamberlain promised to provide the house with the text of the agreement signed at Berlin March 15 between Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Emil Hacha, president of dissolved Czecho-Slovakia. The agreement placed Bohemia and Moravia within the Fuehrer's growing domains as a protectorate of Germany.

"As far as I am aware," Chamberlain said, "no written ultimatum was presented to Dr. Hacha prior to his acceptance of this agreement."

The prime minister told the house of commons Britain was consulting with other nations over consequences of Germany's absorption of Czecho-Slovakia.

Seek United Front

The British cabinet was reported by informed quarters today to have decided to communicate immediately with Soviet Russia, Polish and Southeastern European governments in formation of a united front against aggression in Europe.

Labor and liberal opposition leaders, meanwhile, were understood to have pledged support for the government's new policy of resistance to any further Nazi move towards European domination.

In addition to communicating with Moscow and Warsaw, the cabinet was said to have decided on approaches to Rumania, Yugoslavia, Turkey and Bulgaria in its attempt to weld "anti-aggressor" nations into a bloc.

The cabinet met in the second emergency session in two days for urgent consideration of Prime Minister Chamberlain's new program of blunt resistance to aggression.

A large crowd anxiously watched at Downing street as Chamberlain and his ministers discussed the policy he was expected to outline this afternoon in the house of commons.

Address Awaited

All Britain awaited the address and that of Foreign Minister Viscount Hallifax for a cue to how they propose to stop Germany's eastward march.

The cabinet considered the latest reports of its diplomatic and defense experts and views of the dominion governments, whose London representatives had been urgently summoned by dominions Secretary Sir Thomas Inskip.

It was believed the dominions had decided to back Chamberlain's government in any more to form a solid front against further aggression in Europe.

Britain sounded out Ivan Maisky, Soviet ambassador, on possibility of Russian cooperation with England, France, Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey to stop Adolf Hitler.

Informed sources said Lord Hallifax and Maisky had gone over the situation "in all its aspects" and "it may be expected" that Britain and the Soviet Union would continue to discuss collaboration.

Rumanian Minister Viorel Virgil Tilea declared after visiting the foreign office:

"I am very happy this morning."

He declined to state the reason for his jubilation but some believed he may have gained a British pledge of some sort of support for Rumania if she resisted comprehensive economic demands by Germany.

Among the callers at the foreign office was German Charge d'Affaires Erich Kordt who arrived while Lord Halifax and Britain's ambassador to Berlin were there.

United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy conferred with Lord Halifax. So did French Ambassador Charles Corbin. An informed source said Lord Halifax talked to Kennedy about the close diplomatic collaboration.

(Paris press reports said Britain decided to call a conference to form such a bloc, whose eastern defenses would be based on Poland and the Balkan entente—Rumania, Yugoslavia, Greecen and Turkey.)

King George VI was reported to have sent for Chamberlain for information on a proposal appeal King Carol of Rumania was said to have made for support in case of German aggression against Rumania.

Consulting With Other Nations

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain disclosed to parliament today that Britain was consulting with other nations over the consequences of Germany's obsorption of Czecho-Slovakia.

He apparently had decided to defer making a detailed explanation, however, pending receipt of replies from governments that are being sounded out on the possibility of joining a united front of "anti-aggressor" nations to "stop Hitler."

The prime minister told the house of commons Britain "requires to give full consideration" to the tense European situation in conjunction with other powers "before any statement can be made."

"British attention was centered on Chamberlain's message to the house and to a similar statement his foreign secretary, Viscount Hallifax, was to make to the house of lords.

Charged Provoking Excuse.

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, today accused Germany of "deliberately" provoking incidents to create an excuse for invasion of Czecho-Slovakia.

In a speech paced with angry words the foreign secretary virtually accused Germany of formenting secession of Slovakia from the Czecho-Slovak federation. He told the House of Lords:

"I find it impossible to believe the sudden decision of certain Slovak leaders to break off from Prague, which was followed so closely by their appeals for protection to the German Reich, was reached independently of outside influence."

He said he made the statement because it "is claimed that the German government was entitled to intervene on receiving a request for assistance from the dismissed Slovak premier."

Trade Mission to Rumania

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, announced today the British government had decided to send a trade mission to Rumania.

Stanley, a cabinet minister, made his annoucement in the house of commons after a week end in which Germany's trade negotiations with Rumania had caused widespread concern.

Stanley said details of the mission had yet to be arranged.

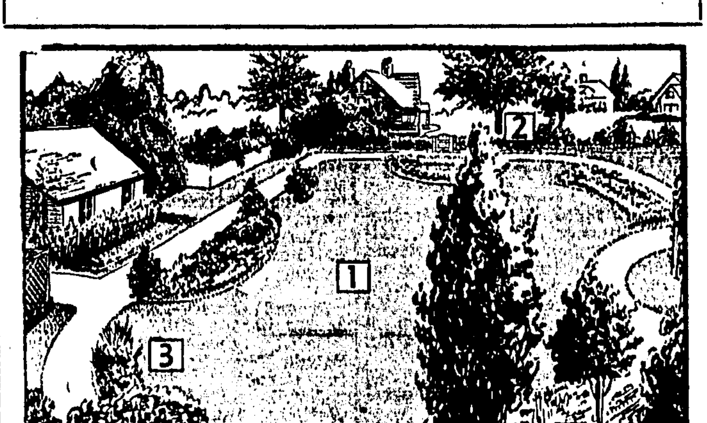
His anouncement came in answer to a question by Laborite F. J. Bellenger who askad whether "in view of the serious economic demads that have been made on Rumania by Germany it is not worthwhile to send the mission."

Stanley replied:

"I think that is one of the best reasons for doing so."

GOING TO HAVE A GARDEN?

YOUR YARD WILL LOOK LARGER IF PLANTING IS WELL-PLANNED



Among the points to consider when laying our your garden: 1. keep your lawn in one piece, with trees, shrubs, and flowers around the edges and at the far end; 2. leave openings in the border shrubbery; 3. irregular planting breaks up the monotonous lines; 4. prune trees high, shrubbery low.

(By The AP Feature Service)

Before you plant your pansies and petunias this spring get out Grandma's old stereoscope.

Take a look at that dog-eared picture of the national capitol with the foreground of trees and shrubs. You see space between the foreground of green, and the massive stone structure beyond.

That's an effect of perspective—the key to the landscape expert's tips on how to plan a yard and garden.

To make a little plot of grass look bigger the experts tell you to draw upon tricks of perspective. Keep your lawn all in one piece. Put trees, shrubs and flowers around the edges, and at the far end.

A flower bed in the middle of a small grass plot leaves only a little green dab around the edges that looks like a tiny lawn crowded with too many flowers.

Tricks To Get Space

Here's another trick to add space. Leave openings in the shrubbery and trees that surround your lot. Then the eye gets a long view through to other lawns, lending a sense of distance.

> If springtime means a chance to fir up the lawn, dig flower beds, and lay out a vegetable garden, you'll find some good tips in this story, first of six. Succeeding stories will discuss flowers, lawns, trees, vegetables, and window box gardens.

You also get more open space on a crowded lot by pruning trees high and trimming shrubbery low.

A large lot looks cozier with irregular plantings of shrubbery along the edges to break up straight, uninteresting lines. Projections of shrubbery cut down distances and mask off little corners. That invites visitors to explore behind the shrubbery screen.

When you put low shrubbery close to your house leave a few open places showing the foundation so that the house won't seem to be built on bushes.

Certain houses need a picture frame of trees. A tall tree on either ide near the front corners may break a severe architectural line without hiding the beauty of the house.

Try 'Em Out First

To get a test picture of how your plans will work out, Department of Agriculture experts suggest temporary plantings first. For example you can put in annual castor beans, growing four to twenty feet tall in shades from green to deep bronze, or cannas which reach three to six feet high, or Josephscoat, four to five feet high, with red, yellow and bronze leaves. If you put them in the wrong spots you can easily pull them up and try again.

Oh, yes, you must figure on how tall and wide your trees and shrubs will look ten years from now. Otherwise a decorative shrub may become a tree hiding the most beautiful part of your house.

Your friends and visitors, even the casual passerby, will like you for planning before you plant. After all, other people have to look at your home too, unless you're a hermit.

DAVE O'BRIEN WILL SPEAK AT DADS SESSION TUESDAY NIGHT

Davey O'Brien, all-American quarterback of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs in 1938, will be the principal speaker at the March meeting of the Corsicana Dads Club Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the senior high school auditorium.

The athletic committee, headed by Beauford H. Jester, is in charge of the program.

All of the junior and senior high school football squads and the ward school clubs are expected to be present. Every man and boy of Corsicana, whether members of the Dads Club or not, are invited to attend this meeting, officials pointed out.

Plans for the annual Spring game between two squads of Corsicana high school players late next month are expected to be made at Tuesday evening's meeting.

CONGRESS

Austin (R-Vt) agreed with George that congress should take matters into its own hands in the event administration proposals are not forthcoming.

Congressional talk is centering on a proposal to substitute a flat-rate levy on corporation income for the exisiting undistributed profits, capital stock and excess profits taxes.

Administration followers argue that this might deter business, because a higher rate would be necessary to compensate for existing levies.

As for other fields of congressional activity, the senate pushed ahead with debate on the administration's government reorganization bill.

Under the house-approved measure, the President could revamp most government agencies by executive order unless both branches disapproved within 60 days.

The house moved toward a vote on the $160,000,000 interior department appropriation bill, and expects to consider other spending measures later in the week.

Rep. Mansfield in Hospital

WASHINGTON, March 20—(AP)—Representative Mansfield (D-Tex) was in the naval hospital today for treatment of an intestinal disorder. Physicians were unable to say immediately whether an operation was necessary.

WASHINGTON, March 20—(AP)—The WPA informed its state administrators today they would have to throw 400,000 persons off work relief during the week beginning April 3 unless congress appropriated additional funds before then.

Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA administrator, made public a state-by-state list of the reductions he said would have to be made in the rolls if congress failed to act.

The list was issued while President Roosevelt was trying to obtain from the congress an additional appropriation of $150,000,000 to carry on work relief to July 1. His request for this sum was refused earlier this session.

Unless congress voted more funds, Harrington said, WPA employment deductions March to April would include: Louisiana, 8,500; New Mexico, 1,200; Oklahoma, 10,200; Texas, 13,500.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt transmitted to congress today for "such action as may be necessary" Secretary Morgenthau's report there is no need to raise the $45,000,000,000 public debt limitation, but that the $30,000,000,000 limit on long term bonds should be removed.

The Morgenthau letter said it would not be necessary at this time to increase the total public limit above $45,000,000,000 because the treasury still could issue about $5,000,000,000 of additional public debt obligations which would be sufficient to carry it well into 1940.

O'DANIEL COMES OUT FOR SALES TAX RAISE FUNDS FOR PENSIONS

DECLARING HE HAD LONG OPPOSED SALES TAX, NOW READY CHANGE MIND

AUSTIN, March 20.—(AP)—As the legislature resumed the racking hunt for a solution to the pension-tax problem, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel today was definitely in the ranks of those favoring submission of a constitutional amendment embodying a sales tax as the chief financing means.

Declared he long had opposed a sales tax, the governor said in his Sunday morning broadcast it appeared the constitutional resolution the house had been considering for a week was the best plan that could be obtained and that to get the job done he was willing to accept it.

The house at adjournment Thursday night had wrangled bitterly over whether an income tax should be substituted for the sales tax recommended by committees and whether natural resource levies also recommended should be recommended should be increased.

Set for special order in the senate was a bill by Senator Ross Hardin of Waco proposing to create two classes of pensions, pay equal pensions within each class and give administration to county commissioners in counties of less than 50,000 population.

Not Press Transaction Tax.

In addition to asserting he would not press further his original recommendation for a transaction tax to finance pensions but wanted to co-operate in what appeared to be the wishes of the house, Governor O'Daniel urged citizens in effect to turn the heat on their representatives.

He expressed fear further discussion and delay might bring about "complete death of the whole pension plan" and called on his listeners to write or wire legislators to vote for the amendment as it stands.

Early in his talk he described the taxing part of the proposed amendment as:

Retaining the money now going to old age pensions.

Levying a 2 1-2 per cent tax on sale of electrical energy by power and light companies, natural gas by utilities and telephone service.

Placing a similar tax on retail sales of tangible personal property and on admissions to places of amusement.

Natural Gas Tax.

Increasing natural gas production taxes approximately 33 1-3 per cent and those on sulphur and oil 25 per cent.

Pointing out that the house had rejected efforts to substitute a transactions tax and a net income tax, he asserted "if this plan will provide the necessary money, I for one am not willing to run the risk of defeating the whole social security program by simply contending for my own plan of getting the money to pay the bill."

While the committees "recommended a sales tax which I have consistently opposed for many years," the governor said, "yet in a free democracy we must all give and take, and I am willing to do my part of giving as far as details are concerned in order to get the big job done, and the big job is to definitely settle the pension problem."

He then said he thought it high time for members of the house "to also give a little" and in the spirit of co-operation "adopt the recommendations of their own committee."

The constitutional resolution contains practically every recommendation he made concerning the amount of pensions to be paid, he said, adding while the tax plan does not correspond with the one he recommended "I believe it is as good as we will likely get."

Corsicana Couple Honorees of Shower At Bryan School

A very unique shower was given in the Bryan School Tuesday night, March 14th, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Odie Blackmon of Corsicana, formerly of Bryan.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out. The lovely outdoor scene on the stage blended with cut flowers made a very beautiful background for the occasion.

As the guest arrived each registered in the bridal book, which was presided over by the bride's sister, Mrs. Odett Russell.

When the couple arrived the hostess, Mrs. Norman Chambers, greeted them and invited them to sit in the lovely decorated sofa at the front of the stage. A few minutes later an old pack-peddler announced herself to the group. She was trying to sell rat-poison, stick candy for children and household wares. No one seemed interested so Mrs. Chambers told her there was a newly married couple present that might been interested in what she had to sell. With their permission she brought in all of her wares, which proved to be many nice useful gifts.

After the bride and groom opened the gifts and looked at them, they were passed around to the eager guests. Mr. and Mrs. Blackmon then expressed their appreciation for the gifts they received.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served during the social hour to the fifty guests. Afterwards races and games of smirth were enjoyed by all.—A Guest.

CONSERVATION AND REJUVENATION FARMS LANDS CARRIED OUT

FOR EVERY TEN ACRES DEPLETED ALMOST HALF THAT MUCH CONSERVED

COLLEGE STATION, March 20.—(Spl.)—For every ten acres of Texas farm land dissipated last year by the excessive demands of some soil-depleting crop, almost five acres were conserved or rejuvenated through soil-building practices carried out by farmers who complied with the AAA.

That is the conclusion of a preliminary report on the 1938 farm program showing, among other things, that soil-conserving crops such as legumes, alfalfa and green manure crops were grown on 6,500,000 acres, and that more than 1,500,000 acres in the program last year were farmed on the contour to better utilize moisture and keep land from washing and blowing away.

The report indicated that Texas farmers last year earned $4,900,000 in soil-building practice payments and that they passed up another four million by failing to take full advantage of their soil-building allowances.

More than 13,000 miles of terracing was done on approximately 141,000 acres; about 2,225,000 acres were contour listed or furrowed; 310,000 acres of permanent pasture were established; 300 acres of forest trees were planted; and 2,225,000 linear feet of pasture ridging was done, by farmers who took part in the program, according to the report.

Value of the soil-saving investments is reflected to some extent in tests showing that contour furrowing increases the annual earning power of an acre of $2.50, on an average throughout the state, and that terracing is often worth from $5 to $8 an acre. In arid sections of the state, contour farming is frequently the difference between a good crop and no crop at all.

George Slaughter, chairman of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee, explained that the AAA gives each farmer a soil-building allowance, which must be earned by approved conservation practices at specified rates of pay, in addition to payments for holding soil-depleting crops such as cotton, wheat and rice within his soil-depleting acreage allotments.

APRIL 15 DEADLINE FOR SIGNING UP OF THEIR WORK SHEETS

COLLEGE STATION, March 20.—(Spl.)—The AAA has set April 15 as the last date on which Texas farmers and ranchmen can sign "work sheets" and thereby indicate that they intend to apply this fall for payment in connection with the 1939 agricultural Conservation Program.

Set according to a recommendation by the state agricultural conservation committee, the deadline is a month earlier than last year's final sign-up date, and applies mainly to operators who did not receive payments in connection with the programs of 1937 or 1938, E. N. Holmgreen, state administrator of the AAA, explained.

Holmgreen said the advanced deadline is possible because acreage allotments this year were distributed much earlier than ever before, this being the first time in the history of the farm program that allotments are reaching Texas producers, generally, ahead of planting time.

It has been estimated at Texas A. and M. College headquarters of the AAA that cash benefits to Texas farmers and ranchmen who take part in this year's program will exceed $90,000,000.
